

Democrats Gain Senate Control

Neuberger's Upset Victory
In Oregon Decides Battle

WASHINGTON (CP).—A close victory in Oregon and a hairline defeat in New Jersey, both decided more than 24 hours after the polls closed, gave the Democrats a one-vote edge in the Senate as well as control of the House of Representatives as a result of Tuesday's off-year elections.

Recounts could upset both critical Senate races, adding an additional vote to the bare Democratic majority or swinging control back to the Republicans, who have ruled both Houses for the last two years.

There was some question whether the Democrats would assert their right to control the Senate because of the narrow margin.

Morse Will Support Democrats

As matters stand today, the Democrats hold 48 seats in the 96-member chamber and have the promised support of Oregon Independent Wayne Morse in naming the committee chairman who will control Senate proceedings. The Republicans have 47 senators.

In the House the Democrats have a comfortable 29-vote edge, having elected 232 members to the Republicans' 203.

President Eisenhower, who had spent the last week before election day asking the voters to give him a friendly Republican Congress, took the defeat philosophically, promising to work with the Democrats in putting across his legislative proposals.

First Victory in 40 Years

In Oregon, where no Democratic senator had been elected for the last 40 years, Richard Neuberger trailed Republican Senator Guy Cordon until Wednesday night when a flood of returns from Portland, which normally favors the Democrats, pushed him in front.

By the time Neuberger's lead had become decisive early today, Cordon had retired and there was no official concession from the Republican camp.

Second Ike-Stevenson Fight?

WASHINGTON (AP).—The outcome of Tuesday's stubbornly contested elections served to whet interest today in a possible rematch between Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson in the 1956 presidential race.

The prospect was emphasized by the fact that the mid-term battle catapulted only a bare handful of new personalities into the spotlight as potential entries in the '56 sweepstakes.

As returns rolled in, President Eisenhower told his press conference that so far as he could see, the elections would have no effect one way or another on whether he will seek a second term in 1956.

All the President would say was that there is plenty of time for a decision. At Libertyville, Ill., Stevenson hailed the outcome as "a portent of things to come," an obvious allusion to 1956, but with a twinkle he added quickly that it had "nothing whatever to do with whether I'll run again for the presidency."

ALBANY, N.Y. (UP).—Democrat Averell Harriman bolstered his hold on the New York governorship today as election officials began canvassing ballot cast in Tuesday's election.

Reports from districts starting a canvass showed Harriman held a slim margin of 10,101 votes over Republican Sen. Irving M. Ives. Earlier, his lead was down to about 8,000.

Court-Martial Ordered

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP).—A general court martial was ordered Wednesday for 2nd Lieut. Charles C. Anderson, charged with humiliating Camp Gordon army trainees, one of whom allegedly was strung up by his heels. Anderson, 24, is a Korean combat veteran with two battle stars.

Semenick Shooting Was Second Attempt

Police Clamp Secrecy Blackout on Probe Of Affair; Two Suspects Face Charges

VANCOUVER (CP).—Charges of attempted murder were expected to be laid today against two suspects in the bizarre park drive shooting of William Semenick, middle-aged former convict.

It was the second attempt on Semenick's life. The first came, police said, in 1950 shortly before he was sentenced to four years in the B.C. penitentiary for possessing drugs.

At that time two shots were fired at him through the window of a rented house.

Police clamped a tight blackout on their investigations of the case, linked with the illicit narcotics trade and the recent gangland-style slaying of Walter Danny Brent.

Semenick and Brent are said to have been close friends. One of the suspects was plucked from neck-deep water behind a launch at a harbor yacht club near the park soon after the shooting.

The other was picked up later Wednesday near the hospital where Semenick was reported in "fair" condition with a bullet wound in the groin.

Semenick was held under close police guard at the hospital and there were unconfirmed reports that he had been placed in hiding for his own safety.

Semenick was shot down as he attempted to flee from a car in Stanley Park, not far from the city centre.

Police said of six shots fired, only one hit him.

The gunman fled when a park policeman who had heard the shots arrived on the scene.

The suspect was spotted soon after by a watchman at the yacht club.

French Leaders Spurn Offer To Visit Russia

Move Seen Directed At Mendes-France

By KENNETH MILLER

PARIS (UP).—Authoritative French sources disclosed today a new Russian attempt to upset efforts of Premier Pierre Mendes-France to win speedy parliamentary ratification of the Paris treaties on German rearmament.

The Soviets were disclosed to have invited the speakers of both the National Assembly and the French Senate to lead a parliamentary delegation on a visit to Russia "in the interests of improving east-west relations."

The invitation was viewed here as a Krepelin attempt to influence French deputies who are scheduled to pass upon the German rearmament plans next month.

The Soviet manoeuvre was coldly received. Both assembly speaker Andre Le Troquer and Senate President Gaston Monnerville informed the Soviet ambassador an immediate visit to Russia would be "most inopportune."

But the assembly called upon Jules Moch, a bitter enemy of German rearmament, to prepare for it a detailed report on the new German rearmament scheme.

The decision, by a sweeping 21 to 9 vote of the assembly's foreign affairs commission, was a blow to Premier Mendes-France's drive for speedy ratification of the Paris agreements which would restore German sovereignty and rearm 500,000 Germans in a new western European union.

Moch, now in the United States with the French United Nations delegation, was instrumental in helping defeat the earlier European army plan for German rearmament. A sharply adverse report which he drafted on that scheme was credited with influencing many border-line deputies to vote against the European army.

LIVING COSTS UNCHANGED DURING SEPT.

OTTAWA (BUP).—The consumer price index—the government's barometer of living costs in Canada's cities—remained unchanged during September, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The index stood at 116.8 on Oct. 1, the same figure recorded at Sept. 1. The bureau reported a whole variety of changes in various items that balanced each other out in most cases.

4 Albertans Killed in B.C. Car Crash

MICHEL, B.C. (CP).—Four persons, all from Coleman, Alta., were killed near here Wednesday night when their automobile was jammed beneath the trailer of a transport truck on a frost-coated highway.

RCMP identified the dead as: Richard Milo; his wife, Rose; their seven-year-old son, Michael, and Dominic Mareno.

The car went into a spin after rounding a curve and slid into the truck driven by Joseph McKervy of Calgary. McKervy was uninjured.

Three of the victims died instantly and the fourth a short time later. An inquest will be held.

Police said the mishap occurred about 8.30 p.m. three miles east of here.

Churchill, St. Laurent Announce London Parley

LONDON (Reuters).—Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill said today that the Commonwealth prime ministers will discuss "many things of great importance in the international world" at a conference in London, January 31.

OTTAWA (CP).—A Commonwealth conference of prime ministers will be held in London, January 31, Prime Minister St. Laurent said today.

Mr. St. Laurent quoted an announcement by Prime Minister Churchill in the British House of Commons today.

Mr. St. Laurent said the date for the opening of the meeting was selected after consideration of what might suit the convenience of the majority of Commonwealth prime ministers.

'Events of Great Importance'

The statement quoted the following paragraphs from Sir Winston's announcement:

"I have recently been in communication with the prime ministers of the other members of the Commonwealth about the holding of a further meeting between us.

"Many events of great importance in the international field have taken place since our last meeting at the time of the Coronation.

"These will be among the principal subjects for our consideration when, as we have agreed, a meeting of Commonwealth prime ministers is held in London, opening Jan. 31."

Among other topics at the conference will be the recent Paris agreements bringing Western Germany into the Western European Defense Union.

Other possible matters to be discussed include the situation in Indo-China and Korea and other Far East subjects.

Queen Mother For Governor Suggestion Draws Support

LONDON (CP).—The Daily Mail suggests that the Queen Mother become governor-general of Canada.

The Conservative newspaper, elaborating on an editorial Wednesday, in Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, asks: "What might she not accomplish in that great and rapidly developing land if she were to take up a more permanent residence there—perhaps as governor-general?"

The Express suggested she be appointed governor-general of one of the Commonwealth countries.

Adds the Mail: "Any such appointment would depend on her own wishes, but the renewed emphasis which the American visit has placed on her exceptional talents makes us wonder if some such important task does not lie ahead."

"There can be no doubt that her presence in Canada would promote a livelier association in every way between our two countries."

The newspaper says: "There is a precedent for those of royal blood holding such an office. The Duke of Connaught became governor-general of Canada in 1911 and the Earl of Athlone... from 1940 to 1946."

Baby Had to Wait

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP).—A woman lawyer delayed the stork just long enough here Wednesday to learn of her election to the California legislature. Mrs. Wanda Sankary, 34, Democrat, defeated Chester Schneider, San Diego councilman, 28,027 to 27,521, and when the complete returns were in went to the hospital to have her baby.

'APE MEN' ABDUCT TWO TRIBESMEN, EAT THEM

SINGAPORE (Reuters).—A Semai headman has reported that last month a band of hairy 'ape men' raided a Malayan village, carried off two tribesmen and ate them.

This is the story brought back here by a government observer, as told to him by the headman of a village near the Slim River in north Malaya.

The almost-naked creatures, said to be half-human, with long fangs and matted hair, darted out of jungle hills and carried two screaming tribesmen away.

The aborigines, though rigid with fear, tracked the ape men 26 miles back into the steamy hills. Then they came upon the half-eaten body of one of the victims. There were deep fang marks all over his body, and blood had congealed over the wounds.

Fashion Model Writes New Column for Times

Nona Damaske, one of the city's leading mannequins, will become fashion adviser for Victoria Times readers.

With the latest tips on clothes and hints to beauty she will write a weekly column starting in Saturday's issue.

Under the heading "In Step With Style," on the women's pages of this newspaper, Nona will bring to feminine readers not only the newest ideas in high fashion clothes but many hints on ways to better dressing on moderate budgets. She will also attempt to answer questions sent to her through this newspaper, by women in search of short-cut to a more stylish silhouette.

The Times' new fashion columnist is well known in Victoria, through her work as a model. She has appeared in many outstanding fashion shows in recent years in this city, has organized showings of new trends in clothes for various organizations and has acted as commentator for some of the showings. She is in demand as a guest speaker at women's club meetings where her subject is always some phase of the fashion picture for every hour of the day or night.

Times' readers will now share with Nona Damaske the first-hand knowledge she gains through contacts with representatives of leading couturier houses in Canada, the United States and Europe.

McCarthy Loses Chairmanship Of Committee

Change to Democrat Control May Mean Overhaul of System

WASHINGTON (UP).—A possible overhaul of congressional Red-hunting machinery loomed today in the wake of the Democratic election victory that ousted Republicans Joseph R. McCarthy, William E. Jenner and Harold H. Velde from key investigating committee chairmanships.

JUST for the RECORD

FOREWARNED: In Hollywood, Fla., officials of that hurricane-wise city opened an envelope from Conway, S.C., and found $1 and a request for a copy of Hollywood's building code.

"We have had a very sad experience with Hurricane Hazel," wrote V. F. Platt, a Conway official. "We want to be sure we rebuild in a way that we might have more protection than we have had before."

SIMPLE: In North Attleboro, Mass., when House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R., Mass.) was asked why the Republican lost control of Congress to the Democrats, he replied: "We just didn't get enough votes."

TWO MAKES ONE: In Austin, Tex., Herbie Kay Skinner, seven-year-old student pianist, and her teacher, Mrs. Clarence Stump, played a piano solo yesterday at a recital.

Herbie Kay, her right arm in a cast, played the bass notes, while Mrs. Stump, with a broken left arm, handled the treble.

THE PROBLEM: In Beaumont, Tex., Beaumont district judges today pondered a grave question posed by the voters' adoption of a constitutional amendment requiring women to serve on juries in Texas.

Judges Owen M. Lord, Melvin Combs and W. S. Nichols pointed out that present law prohibits the overnight separation of jurors considering a criminal case.

BEST POLICY: In Berkeley, Calif., Doris Marshall, who operates an informal bait shop where fishermen help themselves, had $50 taken out of her purse last March, so police put some marked money in it and waited for her to call. She called yesterday. The marked money was untouched, but someone had put the $30 back—plus an additional $10 bill.

MODERN MASTER MATISSE DIES

Modern Art Master, 85, Stricken While Working on Window for Chapel

NICE, France (UP).—Famed French painter Henri Matisse, stormy pioneer of modern art, died yesterday of a heart attack. He was 85.

He collapsed while working on the design of a stained-glass window for the little Dominican chapel of Notre-Dame-du-Rosaire at Venice, which he considered his last important achievement.

"I don't have the right to die before I have finished the last window, the last tile, the last chandelier in the chapel," he had said. "My chapel will be a chapel of hope."

A distinguished-looking old gentleman with heavy horn-rimmed glasses and a white beard and mustache, Matisse was both admired and dreaded by his artistic compeers for his bitter tongue and caustic criticisms.

TRAINED IN LAW Matisse was trained as a lawyer but abandoned the profession for painting. He studied at the famous Julian Academy at the Gustave Moreau studio where he met Camoin, Manguin, Marquet and Rouault.

"His death is a great misfortune for France and the world of art," Jean Cassou, director of the museum of modern art, said.

Poet Jean Cocteau said "Artists of this quality only pretend to die. Their work lives after them. I refuse to consider Matisse as dead."

The painter whose works hang in museums and private collections throughout the world is noted for his handling of brilliant colors and his readiness to

Ferry Service On Arrow Lakes Given Subsidy

The cabinet today awarded Interior Tug and Transport Co. Ltd. a charter to provide subsidized ferry service on the Arrow Lakes.

The firm submitted a bid asking a $60,000 annual subsidy. Two other bidders, Arrow Lakes Transportation Co. Ltd. ($52,000) and Castlegar-Nakusp Water Transportation Ltd. ($29,000) submitted lower bids.

However, Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi said the tenders "did not fully conform with the conditions stipulated in the tender."

The Arrow Lakes area has been without adequate ferry transportation since the CPR withdrew its service earlier this year.

FOR BRITONS

Windows Dressed

SYDNEY, Australia (Reuters)

Lord Lindsay said here today that the Chinese Communists put out a "certain amount of window dressing" for the recent visit of the British Labor Party delegation headed by Clement Attlee, for which he was interpreter.

"I could check up a good deal because I have friends and relatives in Peiping and Shanghai," he said.

An Australian university professional, Lindsay, and his Chinese-born wife who accompanied him on the trip, returned here by air today after visiting other parts of Asia.

"The British delegation did not see the countryside at all," he said.

INSPECTED SHOWPLACE

"They were shown only two villages and these were obviously not typical. One village was obviously a showplace and officials were keen to point out that they had three tractors to every 300 acres."

"This, of course, is not general of the rest of the countryside," he said.

"The other village was more of a suburb of Peiping, where we were informed that there was one school teacher to every 28 children," Lindsay said.

"This, too, obviously is not typical."

DUKE OF EDINBURGH MORE ACCURATE

Artists Discover Philip Prefers Princely Title

LONDON (AP).—The Queen's husband prefers sometimes to be known as Prince Philip rather than the Duke of Edinburgh.

The Royal Society of Arts, of which he has been president since 1952, discovered his preference when it struck a presentation medal bearing his likeness.

A spokesman for the society said today: "The design for the medal was sent to Buckingham Palace for the Prince's approval. In that design we called him the Duke of Edinburgh. It came back from the palace with the inscription 'Philip'."

tered to Prince Philip. Clearly, it is his personal preference."

DUKE MORE ACCURATE

A spokesman at Buckingham Palace insisted, however, that he should be referred to as the Duke of Edinburgh in strict accuracy.

Newspapers in Britain sometimes refer to him by both styles in the same story.

Debrett's, the authoritative reference work on royalty and nobility, carries his entry under the heading "Duke of Edinburgh." But the biographical article beneath refers to him as "His Royal Highness Prince Philip."

Williston To Unveil VHS Plaque

A new memorial plaque in honor of Victoria High School's dead in the Second World War will be unveiled by Education Minister Ray Williston at a remembrance service Nov. 10 at 2:30 p.m. in the school.

Following a service in the auditorium "in tribute to the school's pupils who paid the supreme sacrifice, the new plaque will be unveiled in the main entrance of the building. Dr. F. T. Fairley, M.P., will deliver the chief address in the auditorium.

COMPANION PIECE

The plaque will be a companion piece to one designed by the late Earl Clarke after the First World War and will become a permanent fixture in the school.

The unveiling will conclude the school's memorial project, which included the construction of the memorial stadium on the school grounds.

Invitations will be mailed upon request to the parents and relatives of those being honored.

Nelson Bridge Tenders Seen Called in April

NELSON, B.C. (CP).—Tenders for a high-level bridge across the west arm of Kootenay Lake at Nelson will probably be called in April, Provincial Secretary Wesley Black announced here today.

The bridge will eliminate a five-minute ferry crossing on the No. 3 southern trans-provincial highway here.

The minister also announced that a site adjacent to the ferry had been chosen as the most economical and practical. The department of public works expects to present full details, including estimated cost, to the B.C. toll bridge authority within a month.

HUSBAND-WIFE LEGISLATIVE TEAM

Oregon Elects the Neuberger's Of 'Rump Sprung Women' Fame

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—Richard L. Neuberger clinched Democratic control of the Senate today by defeating incumbent Republican Guy Cordon with a late but thumping majority from Oregon's metropolitan areas.

On the basis of unofficial but complete returns from 2,495 of the state's 2,499 precincts, Neuberger led Sen. Cordon 283,909 to 281,482.

The quiet that prevailed in the Democratic challenger's headquarters in Portland for almost 20 hours was shattered when Multnomah County's big Portland precincts reported.

Neuberger, with a 13,000 vote deficit most of the race, caught and inched in front of his Republican opponent.

Sen. Cordon, a former Roseburg attorney who had held his Senate post for the past 10 years, refused to admit defeat. He said he would await further checking before conceding the Democratic victory.

BALLOTS SEALED

Both parties requested Gov. Paul L. Patterson to enforce security measures on "every ballot box and tally sheet in the state."

Dr. George Lamont Dies at Vancouver

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Dr. George A. Lamont, a prominent city pediatrician, died in St. Paul's Hospital here Wednesday night after a short illness. He was in his sixties.

Dr. Lamont had been connected with the University of British Columbia and the Canadian Officers' Training Corps. He was also a city school doctor for many years.

He is survived by his wife and a daughter.

Royal Welcome

WASHINGTON (UP)—A Royal welcome awaited the Queen Mother Elizabeth today on her second visit to Washington.

High officials and foreign diplomats, led by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, were scheduled to greet Her Majesty upon her arrival at national airport from New York aboard President Eisenhower's official plane, the Columbine.

Neuberger's wife, Maureen, was elected to the State House of Representatives—making the Neuberger's the only husband and wife legislative team in the United States.

STARTED FURORE

Senator Neuberger and his wife—who once dared to call B.C. women "rump sprung"—are known to Victorians.

Senator Neuberger traveled to Vancouver in 1951 for the express purpose of replying to an article by Times editor Bruce Hutchison entitled "The Trouble With You Yanks Is..." which appeared in a U.S. magazine.

Subject of Neuberger's address was "The Trouble With You Canucks Is..."

Frequent author of articles about Canada and Canadians in national publications, the Oregon senator good-naturedly blasted Canadians for not having independence, and for not developing their own culture.

HORRID KITCHENS

Mrs. Neuberger got into a self-imposed furor on her own while the senator was telling Canadians they suffered a serious inferiority complex.

She told the women of B.C., and the rest of Canada, they "wear rump-sprung skirts, shoes that are too big," and their kitchens "would horrify the women back home."

Man Stabbed To Death With Broomstick

TORONTO (BUP)—A 19-year-old girl screamed in court Wednesday when she was asked to touch a broom which her girl friend's father allegedly used to kill William Causton, 22.

Herbert Worthington, a 63-year-old plant guard, was charged with manslaughter after Causton was fatally beaten in his home Sept. 26.

Leslie Bishop said at the preliminary hearing that she saw Worthington inflict "two stinging blows" with the handle of the broom, but she shrieked when she was asked to demonstrate Magistrate N. A. Gianelli ordered a pause until she drank a glass of water and continued her testimony.

Pathologist Dr. E. C. Fielden testified that Causton died after admittance to the St. Joseph's Hospital from a severe blow to the head. He admitted the fatal blow could have been administered with a broom handle. The hearing will continue Monday.

Snubbed Bride Joins Hewitt In Job Search

If He Gets Vancouver School, She'll Work as Fashion Model

John Hewitt is job hunting in Vancouver today and his "snubbed bride" hopes to resume her career as a fashion model.

The 31-year-old Englishman who quit his teaching job at Shawnigan Lake School for boys because school authorities objected to his mixed marriage to a lovely Jamaican fashion model, has hopes of resuming his career in a public school.

He has already submitted his qualifications to Vancouver School Board, but has indicated a willingness to take a country job if unable to gain a post in a city school.

Mr. Hewitt and his wife, the former Dorothy Holtz, arrived in Vancouver Wednesday night. The couple's return climaxed an eight-week controversy between the school's board of governors and themselves. The dispute was touched off early in September when Mrs. Hewitt returned to Jamaica, claiming school authorities had objected to her living at the school since she was "a colored person."

The school denied the allegation and claimed there had been a misunderstanding. The school subsequently admitted the advisability of a "mixed marriage" had been questioned.

'Facesaver' Shawnigan Statement

"We were told the objection was to a mixed marriage all right," Mr. Hewitt told Vancouver newsmen. "But when I asked what was meant by mixed—religion or color?—they said color."

He said the school had offered to take Mrs. Hewitt back on condition that she sign a statement written by the headmaster, saying that remarks attributed to her concerning the school were ill-considered and inaccurate.

He said the statement was designed as a "facesaver" device and added "I feel sure we would only have been allowed to remain at the school until the controversy died down."

"They just wanted to get me to sign it so we would look like troublemakers," Mrs. Hewitt interjected.

Mr. Hewitt says his wife's return to Canada was conditional on his finding a job away from Shawnigan.

He said he would visit the Shawnigan Lake school later this week to pick up his belongings "and that is the last I want to see of it."

WILL REPAY FARE

He said he intended to repay the school for his return fare to Jamaica "because I certainly don't want to be under any obligation to them."

Mrs. Hewitt, looking like a bride, complete with bouquet, as she stepped from the Trans-Canada Air Lines plane, said she was looking forward to living in Canada and expressed confidence there would be no further incidents because of her color.

Dorval Airport To Be Expanded; Gets Heliport

Multi-Million-Dollar Plan Told by Marler

OTTAWA (BUP)—Plans for a multi-million-dollar face-lifting that will give Montreal's Dorval Airport a new look and Canada's first heliport were announced today by Transport Minister George C. Marler.

Work will start early next spring on the project for which the federal government has bought 2,420 acres of land to add to the size of the international and domestic airbase.

NEW RUNWAYS

Marler did not announce what the change would cost. But on the basis of his announcement that the "new" airport 15 miles from downtown Montreal would include two extra runways up to 10,000 feet long, a cocktail lounge, theatre, banks and numerous other facilities it was expected to run to several million dollars.

Air travellers have complained about the lack of facilities both for passengers and the airlines at Montreal since a postwar boom in air travel turned the airport into a gateway to North America. Marler's program, drafted originally by Lionel Chevrier, his predecessor, is designed to change it.

MORE HANGARS

Today's announcement indicated that the rebuilding program was aimed at equipping Dorval to handle the heaviest planes likely to fly for several years and to cope with possibly two dozen aircraft at a time. Passenger and operational facilities now are strained when only three or four airliners use the Atlantic side and about the same number park on the domestic side of the field.

The heliport will be situated near the main administration building, ready for the time when helicopters come into general use for regular short-haul passenger travel.

WASHTUB MAN QUILTS FOR GOOD—UNTIL 1955

EDMONDS, Wash.—Roy Bergo, the 50-year-old novice mariner, who hoped to travel from his home port to Alaska, a distance of 1,200 miles, in a pontoon-equipped baby's bathtub, was back home today.

Bergo may make another attempt next year. On arrival home he said his attempt was called off at Port Angeles because he ran out of money, could not find a backer, had motor trouble, was refused an escort from Port Angeles to Victoria and feared his "boat" would be impounded when he reached Victoria.

WHITENS DISINFECTS DEODORIZES

Evening

NOW that Dad is dead, and the boys all grown and gone, she's living in an apartment in the city. It's a nice apartment, more comfortable and civilized than anything they had on the farm that sloped down to the river.

But it's too tidy, and too quiet. The pots and pans in the bright kitchenette are so small compared with those she used to cook in. There are never any overalls to wash and never any work socks to darn or mackinaws to dry. And once the single supper chop is cooked and the few familiar dishes put away, the winter evening stretches out bleak and bare. Sometimes she thinks she'll cut it short by going to bed quite soon. But she doesn't always sleep, and if she drops off before midnight, the couple from the next apartment will surely wake her up when they come in under the influence. "My dear, I don't see how these young people can afford it, with liquor the price it is!"

Ruth

Lately, she's been remembering earlier evenings, and the way they used to be on the farm. If she shuts her eyes quite tight, and thinks, she can see them plain as plain.

For Dad's not up from the barn yet. He's bedding the cows down for the night. And the boys are finished first. They've done their share of milking, and fed the calves, and separated. And now they're doing homework at the kitchen table, and having to hurry it a little in a way that city boys don't need to do.

She answers the questions fired at her from every side, and when she can't, she tells them the books of reference which will give them the facts she doesn't know.

And sometimes when the dishes are done, and the dog is fed, and the porridge put on in the double-boiler, she slips down to the barn.

It's heaven in the barn, with a sense of peace and quiet and ageless tasks far removed from the troubled turmoil of the outer world. The cows are in their stalls, each with her pan of grain set carefully in the hay put daily in the manger. The mother cat is in a corner watching for a mouse. The half-grown kittens, having licked the warm milk from their whiskers, are playing round in frolicsome evening mood, while the lazy tom, father of them all, lies fat and full upon a pile of sacks.

The swallows are gone from the nest up in the eaves, but the banian rooster's on his perch in the farthest corner of the barn. And all the calves are full of milk. The youngest Jersey is like a deer, the Holsteins are black and white and sturdy, and the Short-horn is already showing the squareness of his beefy breed.

And soon the light will be put out because the evening's work is done.

And the work is hard, and the hours are long, but it's the family and living, and a sense of fulfillment and peace.

For the family needs her, and all the dull, indoor tasks she hates so much are indirectly helping in the barn.

Yes, if she shuts her eyes, she can see it all once more.

But it's only make-believe. Nothing on this earth can truly bring them back again.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Color Problem Looms

LONDON—A major color-bar problem seems to be looming up in Britain. Many feel that it is here already. Reason for the trouble: Colored people from the West Indies are arriving here in hundreds each month, seeking work in what they feel is a better labor market than their native islands. But, they claim, labor exchanges are telling them there are no jobs—not if you're colored. Some publicans won't have them in their pubs because they say it affects trade. Many of the immigrants find it difficult to get places to live because some landlords are afraid of the reactions of their white tenants.

Of a batch of 500 West Indians who arrived in England last week, only 20 were women. This ratio is usual, far more men coming in than women. This creates its own problem. Without enough West Indian girls to pair off with, they turn to English girls—and the girls they go out with find they come in for their share of resentment and prejudice.

The most rabid of those who are against colored people are calling for a banning of the entry of any more of these West Indian immigrants. But that's out of the question. If that were done the whole basis of free movement of British people within the Commonwealth would go by the board. Bar or restrict the entry of colored people from the West Indies into Britain? Why not stop Canadians and New Zealanders from coming in, too?

So, the problem—not yet a widespread one continues to grow as more and more shiploads of West Indians are deposited at English ports, most of them men who have arrived with practically no funds after they have saved to raise their passage money. Soon the situation will reach crisis point. And the solution? No one yet seems to have come up with practical answers to the labor and social problems this influx is creating.

THE THINGS THEY SAY . . .

Lady Hardwicke (American wife of Sir Cedric): "London is the lover you can trust. New York is the lover you can't trust. Any minute you expect to get kicked in the pants."

Elsie Baily, supervisor midwife of Boston, Lines: "The birth of a baby in its own home with father on hand to share with his wife the arrival of the child is one of the most potent factors in family unity. There is less risk of infection from other babies. Babies will sleep better and they will more quickly become members of the family."

Veteran columnist Hanhen Swaffer: "No body, writing an autobiography, ever dares to write down all the truth. Truth is a sharp blade without a handle. You cannot use it without hurting yourself."

Speaker D. Livesay at the Blackpool Savings Conference: "While it might be true that many men owe their success to their wives, it might also be said that many owe their wives to their success."

Judge Tudor Rees: "If unswerving fidelity and unfailing affection are passports to Paradise, then all the dogs I have known will have honored places there. If I do not find dogs in Paradise, it will not be Paradise to me, and I shall apply for a transfer to the other place."

Narriman Orders Ex-King 'Thrown Out If Necessary'

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (UP)—Former Queen Narriman of Egypt today barred Ex-King Farouk, her first husband, from the clinic where she is recovering from an operation. "Bar the doors if he drives up," Narriman was quoted. "Throw him out if necessary."

According to statements made by Farouk in Geneva Wednesday, there was little likelihood that he would attempt to see Narriman. Before going on a tour of Geneva's night clubs he said Narriman had been repudiated and the customs of his country prevented him from remarrying her.

Narriman, who hopes to have children again as a result of her operation, will stay at the Hill-side Clinic for another week and then spend a month in a Swiss hotel.

1,400 ANTIQUES IN 3-DAY AUCTION

300-Year-Old Molenaer Painting Offered in Objet d'Art Sale

Antiques and art objects from the homes of four well-known Victoria families are included in a massive collection of 1,400 household furnishings to be sold at a three-day auction next week.

The antique sale will be held in the auction rooms of Maynard & Sons on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

To go under the auctioneer's hammer is the art and furniture collection of the late Mary Latimer Lodge, widow of Prof. Richard W. Lodge of Boston, who died early this year, leaving about $150,000 to local and British charitable and humane institutions.

The collection includes a rare Oriental Lowestoft porcelain bowl and a number of valuable paintings, including one executed in 1654 by the Dutch artist Molenaer.

Other collections are from the estates of Mrs. F. H. McPherson, Miss A. M. H. Fleming and Col. F. O. St. John, former Victorian heir-apparent to the Earl of Orkney, who has returned to England.

From these estates will be sold English wine glasses believed made in 1700, fine pieces of furniture, rare china, silver, copper, brass and pewter ware. Included in the collections are Oriental curios, such as a century-old Chinese mandarin hat, with the mandarin's pigtail still attached.

Pioneer Sikh Farmer Dies; Rites Saturday

Funeral services will be held Saturday for Baboo Singh, 70, Burnside Road dairyman, one of the first East Indians to settle in Victoria.

He took up farming immediately on his arrival in Victoria in 1907.

A member of the Sikh Temple and prominent in activities of the East Indian population here, Baboo in recent years helped with the management of Epsom Dairy.

Funeral procession will leave Hayward's Chapel at 1 p.m. for Royal Oak Burial Park, where cremation will take place.

HOTEL DENIES COLORED PREMIER REFUSED ROOM

MONTREAL (BUP)—Windsor Hotel president J. A. Raymond Wednesday night denied that Premier Grantley Adams of Barbados was refused a room last week because he was colored.

Acting on a report from Trans-Canada Air Lines that Adams was refused a room between planes, Chief of Protocol H. F. Feaver of external affairs department has apologized in the name of the government.

Raymond explained that Adams, whom he said had been a guest at the hotel on several occasions, could not be accommodated because of lack of room.

$40,000 Loss Estimated in Garage Blaze

PORT ALBERTI—Loss was estimated at $40,000 as a result of a fire Wednesday morning at Port Motors Ltd.

The fire broke out shortly before 8 a.m., and firemen battled for two hours to prevent spread of the fire. At one stage the neighboring Beaufort Hotel and other nearby buildings were threatened.

Stock rooms, show room and an office were damaged by the fire that started in the basement of the building.

After the fire had been extinguished, the firm carried on business in the repair shop and garage, which were not damaged.

Health Centre Building Fund At $5,000

NANAIMO—Fund to complete Nanaimo Health Centre now has reached $5,000, campaign chairman Grant Williams announced Wednesday.

Objective of the campaign is $15,000. The centre serves an area between the Malahat and the Alberni and Qualicum, and the new building was completed only recently. Other health agencies have accommodation in the building.

Mr. Williams said a one-night residential campaign conducted Tuesday yielded $2,500 for the fund. He said, though, that the 200 canvassers found the public "less responsive than anticipated" due to the many local appeals of the last month.

Funeral Friday At Duncan for Mrs. Eva Wilson

DUNCAN—Funeral services will be held here Friday at 2:30 p.m. for Mrs. Eva Lotica Wilson, 71, who died at King's Daughters' Hospital Monday.

Born in Vermont, Mrs. Wilson came to Canada in 1909, residing in Alberta. She was one of the oldest pioneers of Pine Creek, Alta., and also lived in various towns near Edmonton.

She came to British Columbia in 1953 and lived at Youbou. Mrs. Wilson was a member of the United Church, the Friendship Club and Edmonton and Highlands Friendship Clubs.

She is survived by her husband, Richard Lawrence Wilson; four sons, Clifford, Noral, Alta; Clayton, Caslan, Alta; Hollis, Victoria; and Mearl, Burnaby; five daughters, Mrs. Doris Fiss, Nanaimo; Mrs. Belle Donnelly, North Vancouver; Mrs. Leona Budden, Youbou; Mrs. Gladys Knight, Courtenay; and Mrs. Florence Ervin, Beverley, Alta.; 35 grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, one brother, five sisters, and several nephews and nieces.

It is expected Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane will preside.

Native Son Dies; G. W. Andrews Was City Postman

A well-known native son of Victoria, George Wallace Andrews, 38, died early today at St. Joseph's Hospital.

A city postman until illness intervened, he had the respect of hundreds of residents and department workers.

Mr. Andrews, who received all of his education here, was the only son of the late George William Andrews and is survived by his mother, Mrs. Lena Andrews at 2825 Prior. Also at home is a sister, Miss Margaret Andrews. Another sister, Mrs. Hilda Corbett, also resides in the city.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Hayward's B.C. Funeral Co. Ltd.

INCREASING DEMANDS are being made for appearances by Donna D. Moody, 17-year-old contralto of Brentwood Bay, who studies voice in Victoria. A Grade 12 student at North Saanich High School, she has sung at school at church and community affairs and has acted as accompanist for other singers.

$17,000 'Phone Project Finished Near Courtenay

COURTENAY—Completion of a program to increase telephone facilities in the Merville and Royston areas near here has been announced by the B.C. Telephone Company.

The program included installation of cable containing more than 180 miles of wire, replacing open wire. Also strung was some 50 miles of open wire, most of which is located in the Merville area.

Costing more than $17,000 the task has occupied a seven-man gang several weeks under the supervision of Foreman Art Saunders. Splicer was Arnold Caudle.

Courtenay telephones total 2,461, an increase of almost 160 per cent in the 954 instruments in use in May, 1945.

Queen Mother Bids Farewell to New York

Stresses Importance of Bond Linking U.S., U.K., Before 3,000 at Glittering Dinner

NEW YORK (CP)—Queen Mother Elizabeth, symbol of British-American friendship, at the close of her visit to New York said Wednesday night the Atlantic, "once a wide gulf between us, is surely now a lake that links us."

An audience of more than 3,000 at a farewell dinner given by the English-Speaking Union—one of the biggest in the history of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel—heard the Queen Mother caution that the understanding "which I believe to be so necessary between our two countries, is much too precious to be taken for granted."

"For misunderstandings are like weeds; neglect to tend your garden and they spring up everywhere. True understanding by contrast needs constant fostering. It needs tolerance as well as firmness, patience as well as goodwill, common sense as well as good intentions, hard heads as well as warm hearts."

Speaking for the Americans, Earl Warren, chief justice of the United States, said that today the dream of peace in the world has begun "to approximate reality," and "one of the compelling reasons why this is so has been the way the British Commonwealth and the United States have moved forward together."

CANADA LINK

The theme of friendship between the two great powers—with Canada a significant link between them—was carried through the audience, made up of prominent British, American and Canadian figures plus United Nations delegates.

Ray Lawson, Canadian consul-general in New York, was his country's official representative at the dinner—but seven Canadian pipers of the Black Watch regiment shared the limelight with the Queen Mother before the glittering guests.

The Queen is colonel-in-chief of the regiment, and the pipers, brought from Montreal for the occasion, preceded Her Majesty in a grand tour of the ballrooms before the dinner.

ONLY MAJOR SPEECH

The Queen's speech was the only major one of her three-week tour of New York, Washington and Ottawa. She thanked the English-Speaking Union, an organization dedicated to better understanding between the U.S. and Britain, for the contributions made to the King George VI memorial fund by which scholarships are granted to English students for specialized work in the U.S.

The dinner wound up the Queen Mother's visit to New York which began October 26. Today she takes off for Washington to visit the White House as guest of President Eisenhower, and next Friday flies to Canada for a six-day stay in the Ottawa area before returning to New York to sail for home.

The City of New York marked the visit earlier Wednesday with a luncheon tendered by Mayor Robert Wagner. The Queen told the mayor and guests that her stay here was "certainly an inspiring and stimulating experience."

Since New York's administration is Democratic, there were many happily victorious Democratic leaders and supporters at the lunch, and the Queen Mother chatted briefly with Averell Harriman, governor-elect of New York State.

But like Mayor Wagner, Democratic mayor of the city, Harriman carefully avoided the subject of politics in talking to the Queen Mother.

OTTAWA SENDS APOLOGY TO BARBADOS PREMIER

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government, it was learned today, has apologized to Premier Grantley Adams of Barbados, who is colored, because he was refused a room in Montreal's Windsor Hotel. Officials said they had learned such action was not the policy of the hotel, and the specific case was blamed on a clerk's stupidity.

Oak Bay Initiates Loan; Pavilion Tenders Called

A $220,000 loan by-law, covering general revenue funds used for road and sidewalk work in local improvement projects in Oak Bay during the past year, was introduced and passed first reading at a meeting of the Oak Bay council Wednesday night. Tenders for a Carnarvon Park pavilion will close at 5 p.m. Nov. 17, council announced, and they will be opened at the next council meeting, also on Nov. 17.

Colwood Protects Its No-Death Record

RCMP Seek to End 1954 Without a Traffic Fatality; Ghost Cars, Spot Checks Ordered

Colwood RCMP are seeking to end 1954 without a single fatality from road accidents and have called on drivers' co-operation to make this a "year to be remembered."

In 1953 there were three deaths in the Colwood district, in 1952 there were five.

In an effort to end the year with a clean sheet, police warned today that a close check will be kept on traffic.

Ghost cars will keep an eye peeled for speeders and patrol cars will hold spot checks on the highway to find faulty brakes or poor mechanically-conditioned cars.

Weigh scales at Parson's Bridge will check trucks for dangerous overloads.

Wednesday night Constable C. A. Barager met with PTA members and Public Works Traffic Engineer J. H. Harding to discuss hazards in the View Royal area.

"The accident picture is considerably brighter now than last year," according to RCMP Corp. Joseph Shepherd. "There have been 25 or 30 less reported than at the same time last year."

Bob Taft Jr. Wins Seat in Ohio House

CINCINNATI (AP)—Robert Taft Jr. will sit in the Ohio House of Representatives next January as his father did three decades ago. He was elected Tuesday. It was the 37-year-old lawyer's first try for office.

Leafs Thank Eric

Nesterenko Gives
Toronto NHL Draw

Toronto 1, Detroit 1

Eric Nesterenko, a gangling youngster who was touted as a future National Hockey League great, turned the boos of thousands into cheers with one shot Wednesday night.

The 21-year-old rightwinger with Toronto Maple Leafs, who is having scoring troubles in the big league this year, registered his first goal of the 1954-55 campaign to give Leafs a 1-1 tie with Detroit Red Wings.

He didn't do it with the flair of a Rocket Richard or a Gordie Howe, but the goal came in the dying minutes when all seemed lost. It was enough to bring 12,780 fans to their feet in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens. A few minutes earlier, Nesterenko was razzed when he looked bad on a couple of plays with veteran Ted Kennedy and left-winger Sid Smith.

REBOUND

It was the only league game of the night. Nesterenko, who broke in with the Leafs for one game in the 1951-52 season, beat nemesis Terry Sawchuk at 18:38 of the third period by firing defenseman Tim Horton's rebound into the nets.

Up till then, the second-place Detroiters appeared to have the game wrapped up. Leftwinger Larry Wilson gave them a 1-0 lead at 8:54 of the first period with a short drive during a pile-up in front of goaltender Harry Lumley. Alex Delvecchio and Vic Stasiuk were given assists.

NHL Summary

TORONTO 1, DETROIT 1
First period—1. Detroit, Wilson (Delvecchio, Stasiuk) 14:32. Penalties: Nesterenko 5:54, Kennedy 8:29, Sawchuk 10:48, Lindsay 11:57.
Second period—No scoring. Penalty: Thomson 8:54.
Third period—2. Toronto, Nesterenko (Horton, Kennedy) 18:38. Penalty: Kennedy 18:15.
Shots—Sawchuk 12, 10, 7-29; Lumley 10, 11, 10-31.

Dutchmen Lead ORFU Finals

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Dutchmen, fighting for a berth in the Grey Cup semi-final, squeaked through to a 13-12 overtime victory over Sarnia Imperials Wednesday in the first game of the best-of-three Ontario Rugby Football Union final.

It was close most of the way. Dutchmen rolled up a first-quarter 12-0 lead on two converted touchdowns, but Imperials tied it up before regulation time and yielded the winning single by Kitchener quarterback Bob Celeri in the first overtime period. Sarnia muffed chances to win shortly before the fourth quarter ended and again in the second overtime period.

Second game of the series is scheduled for Sarnia, November 11 and the third, if necessary, will be played at Kitchener, November 13 with the winner going west to meet the Western Interprovincial Football Union champion in the cup semi-final November 20.

Colored Cage Clubs To Show Here Monday

Ardent basketball fans here will be given a sneak preview of this year's Victoria senior A men's basketball team and a chance to see the Iowa Colored Ghosts in action Monday night at the Victoria High School gym.

Howie Tooby's local squad will display their combined talents before local fans the first time this season when they meet the Ghosts in the second game of a two-game card at 9 p.m. In a preliminary game the Harlem Chickens colored women's team will match hoops against Lou McCorkill's Cec' Fletchers juniors at 8.

Tooby's team is scheduled to play the Ghosts Saturday night in Duncan.

Ghosts are managed by Rip Collins, and led on the floor by Rufus Johnson and Ray Good-

CANADIAN CAGERS IN FOURTH DEFEAT

RIO DE JANEIRO (CP)—Nationalist China won its first victory in the finals of the world basketball championships at the expense of Canada Wednesday night, defeating favored Winnipeg Canadians, 74-61.

Canada, mathematically eliminated from the eight-country round-robin tournament, after falling before the Philippines last Monday, now has lost four games and won two.

The score was tied, 29-29, at the half-time mark Wednesday night and the Canadians managed to pull ahead to a brief one-point lead in the final quarter before the Chinese staged a whirlwind finish to win.

LOUIS STOPS CARNAGE

'Sluggish' Olson Outslugs Panther

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP)—"I felt sluggish, fighting at 166 pounds."

World middleweight champion Carl Bobo Olson made this comment after he had scored an eight-round technical knockout over Garth Panter of Salt Lake City in their scheduled 10-round, nationally televised contest at the Richmond Auditorium Wednesday night. The title, of course, was not at stake.

Olson didn't look exactly sluggish in the fearful beating he gave Panter. He pounded the game Salt Laker with a two-handed attack from the start.

Referee Joe Louis, the former heavyweight champion, halted the uneven battle 41 seconds after the eighth round started when Panter was cut deeply on the side of his right eye. Five stitches were needed to close it. Panter also was cut on his left cheek bone in the fifth round. It took two stitches to close this cut.

BIG FOUR TELEVISION ON WAY OUT

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Star says the $200,000 television deal between NBC and Canada's Big Four football clubs is almost certain to be a one-year proposition.

Next year NBC will likely televise United States college football in place of the Canadian game which was carried this year by the largest U.S. TV network, it says.

"A final decision hasn't been made yet by network executives. But a highly-placed official, who requested that his name not be used, said the odds were 10 to 1 against the Canadian game being televised by NBC next season."

It adds that ABC, holder of the college football contract this season, is reported to have lost $2,000,000 on the operation.

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—The Philadelphia Athletics, an institution set up by Connie Mack here 54 years ago, were sold today to Chicago realtor Arnold Johnson for transfer to Kansas City.

Earle Mack, with tears in his eyes, came out of a morning session at his father's apartment saying, "we lost out."

Asked whether the club had been sold, Earle said, "yes."

"It was a tough decision," Earle added as he walked through the doorway of the apartment house with his attorney, Alfred Luongo.

Johnson had left the apartment some time earlier and announced he would make a statement within an hour.

There was no official statement other than Earle's admission of the sale. It came as a Philadelphia purchasing group waited in the lobby of the big apartment house.

Isidore Sley, one of the prospective Philadelphia buyers, said they had the money with them and offered it to the Mack family in four checks. They said Mrs. Mack (Connie's wife) turned them down and asked for one check.

Then Johnson appeared on the scene, and they were ushered out.

Cage Coaches Plan Dominion Association

VANCOUVER (CP)—A move to start an association of basketball coaches in Canada has been started by three Vancouver men who hope to improve the calibre of Canadian basketball and promote closer co-operation among coaches.

Harry Franklin, former UBC star, Leaf coach Ron Weber, and Dick Penn, coach of the UBC entry in the local league have drawn up a letter which they say they will circulate across Canada.

The letter lists a number of objectives such as:

Raising general coaching standards through clinics; Assisting in rule changes and interpretation and the achievement of better playing facilities;

Assisting in arrangement of play-offs among Canadian university teams and in promotion of international series in Canada.

Franklin says the United States has had marked success through such "coaches' organizations, especially in preparation of scouting material in international competition.

Wally Hergesheimer To Rejoin Rangers

NEW YORK (AP)—X-rays showed Wednesday that Wally Hergesheimer's broken left leg had mended and the high-scoring New York Ranger forward from Winnipeg would be able to start skating immediately.

The 27-year-old Hergesheimer suffered the injury last March 11 in Boston and was forced to miss the entire training period this year.

Fisherman Surprises; Queen's Horse Trails

By RAY AYRES

United Press Sports Writer

LAUREL, Md. (UP)—Now that he has proved his supremacy over some of the world's best thoroughbreds, C. V. Whitney's Fisherman today was pointed for the Pimlico Special and a possible duel with Determine, the hero of this year's Kentucky Derby.

Making his debut run over a grass course, Fisherman gave this nation its first victory in the Washington, D.C., international yesterday by turning back France's stretch-running filly champion, Banassa, by three-quarters of a length.

It was a dramatic triumph for the tiny, Kentucky-bred, New York-owned colt who got into the international line-up on a pass. He was named as a substitute for King Ranch's High Gun, who was injured in a training accident Monday.

Cats Had It Real Good; Ask Luke, He'll Agree

Give Polished Display In Romping Over Royals

Victoria 6, New Westminster 1

By BILL WALKER

Just as it was being suggested that there isn't much use living in a castle unless there's somebody around to make the mush, the Cougars delivered.

There should be nary a dissenting voice today that the Cougars' 6-1 Western Hockey League victory over New Westminster Royals Wednesday was one of the most one-sided WILL contests ever staged here.

Not that it wasn't expected in time. The Cougars had been giving plenty in past performances, outshooting, outplaying and generally mystifying their opponents except when it came to scoring goals and adding up the final tally. In this category they were on the short end more often than not, and too often for harmony with success.

But not this Wednesday. As good as the Cougars looked and played, the Royals were made to look and play that much worse.

They only got nine shots on goal over the three periods.

Forlorn, Frantic and Fabulous

Big Luke, if so inclined, could have put the skates to every one of the Royals, and they would have taken it and asked for more. Like a bee in a glass jar, Dechene was spectacularly frantic, and nobody blamed him one bit when he spent most of the third period on his knees, either stopping rubber or praying for someone to jimmy the time clock and end it all. He was the dyke that kept the Royals from being skated across to Port Angeles.

The contest began innocently enough, the Cougars surviving an early penalty to Walt Clune. Then the assault commenced, slowly but awfully certain and later devastating in its relentless design.

It was, as of old, a succession of missed chances for the Cougars in the scoreless first period. Pelletier touched the rubber twice at the other end, somewhere between particularly close to by Mark Marquess, Andy Heberton, Ed Dorohoy and Colin Kilburn.

Then came a deserving bit of fate. Marquess, tipping Clune's knee high drive into the short side on Dechene, after making a fine opening and missing an equally fine chance seconds earlier.

It was then Dorohoy's turn to sparkle, and his determination put Heberton in the clear for the second marker after Anderson had been beaten twice from the crease.

Durham took the cue from there and made his own play for his own goal on a two-way passing bout with Heberton, giving the Cougars a 3-0 lead by 11:21 of the middle frame.

A penalty to Alex Kuzma saw the Royals rise to their sole moment of glory. Max McNab converting a goal-mouth pass from Blinky Boyce. But from then all hope died, and it was particularly agonizing but gritty death for Dechene who was a brilliant figure in face of the obvious.

Keating Got One—Neat, Too

Flies around a jam tart never had a more entertaining time than did the Cougars from then on. Game notes read like the Cougar roster today—Anderson had a good chance, but waited too long; Dorohoy was in the clear; Kilburn forced Dechene to his knees; Kilburn and Anderson piled up in the goal-mouth as Dechene grabbed a loose puck; Marquess was in; Kuzma was cheated; Macauley slapped a hard drive; Dechene on his knees again, etc.

Still there was time for goals. Mike Keating got his on a passing play with Marquess, tipping the puck into the corner as he led the pass perfectly.

Kuzma rapped his counter home when Sam Lavitt was in the penalty box, action being less severe at that station. Heberton got his second and his 10th of the season from Kuzma and Dorohoy, a line that deserved better.

If there must be some stick-outs, and indeed there must, the choice would lie between Dechene and the Cougars. They were the ones at each other's throats all evening.

Bays Tie With Champs To Share Soccer Lead

Oak Bay High School gained a share of the league leadership and Esquimalt High earned its first point this season Wednesday in inter-high-school senior soccer league action.

Oak Bay vaulted into a deadlock for first place with Victoria High by drawing, 2-2, with defending champion Mount View High at Windsor Park, while Esquimalt scored its first goal and tied Mount Douglas, 1-1, at Mount Douglas grounds.

Oak Bay and Mount View battled to their second draw in many games, Mount View coming from behind with two second-half goals to tie the score 15 minutes from time.

Ray Hughes and Bud Shipley found the range for Oak Bay in the first-half, Bill Gandy and George Robbins countering in the second-half from Mount View.

Reg Chiasson blasted a goal for Mount Douglas 25 seconds after the opening kickoff, but Chuck Bennett scored Esquimalt's first goal this season in the second-half to give Esquimalt its first point this season.

SELKE WOULD HELP HAWKS—BUT QUICK

MONTREAL (CP)—Managing director Frank Selke of Montreal Canadiens indicated Wednesday that something should be done by National Hockey League clubs to help the last-place Chicago Black Hawks.

With reference to the meeting of NHL club owners in New York next Tuesday, Selke said if the Chicago situation is dealt with he hoped the "others" don't try to bolster the Hawks with "castoffs."

"I am not in favor of that kind of treatment," he said. "It will have to be something better than castoffs if we're going to help Chicago."

Selke said the meeting was advanced from the original Dec. 1 date because in another month it might be a case of "too little too late."

JAYCEES FORMULATE PLANS

Pony Baseball Near Reality

Plans are currently being formulated for the debut of Little League baseball in Esquimalt and inauguration of Pony League baseball in Victoria next year under sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Jaycee members are continuing to investigate requirements of Pony League ball and a special committee to deal with the matter has been formed.

The league is expected to open next spring. Designed primarily for the purpose of accommodating youngsters moving up from Little League baseball, the Pony League age limit being youths of 13 and 14 years of age.

Boundaries for the league will be approximately the same as the current Little League restrictions in Victoria.

The league is operated on an international scale, such as Little League and a league franchise may be secured. Windsor and Carnarvon Parks have been suggested as possible sites for Pony Baseball here.

FOOT TURNOUT

Although only about 40 Esquimalt residents turned out to a meeting Friday night at the Fraser Street Hall, Jaycee members are proceeding with plans for Little League ball in that section and hope for a much larger turnout at future meetings.

Other meetings will be held there in the future, no dates having been set as yet. Esquimalt Parks Board has agreed to the use of a central location which can be easily developed.

There are approximately 400 children in the regulation nine to 12 years of age group in the Esquimalt area.

HOAD WINS WHEN REQUEST GRANTED

Australian Netters In Sit-Down Protest

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Lewis Hoad defeated Neale Fraser, 6-8, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3, in the quarter-final of the Queensland tennis championship Wednesday after both Australians staged a sit-down strike to protest the umpiring.

Hoad and Fraser stopped their match in the first game of the second set. They continued it when their call for new line men was answered.

Sven Davidson, the Swedish champion, also figured in an incident in his quarter-final against Australian champion Mervyn Rose. Rain stopped play.

Barons Lead AHL

Cleveland Barons took over undisputed first place in the American Hockey League Wednesday night by defeating Hershey Bears 4-1 at Cleveland. It was Barons' fifth straight victory and put them two points ahead of idle Providence Reds.

ANOTHER VIEW

By OSCAR FRALEY

Small-Fry Footballers Turn 'Fearless' Fearful

FEARLESS FRALEY'S BEDROOM (UP)—I can't get out of bed today—which makes it necessary to tender my humble apologies to such football teams as Kenyon, Illinois, Cornell, Kansas and Pennsylvania.

Until today I came libelously close to scolding those institutions for their losing ways on the gridiron. I must admit now that they are paragons of perseverance whose athletes must be remembered in story and song merely for showing up every Saturday.

Because I scrimmaged yesterday with a bunch of 11-year-olds and I wouldn't do it again Saturday if the opposition came out of Vassar in their negligees.

Sitting on my foam rubber cushion in pleasantly warmed press boxes each Saturday afternoon this fall, I have placidly accepted the panorama of bone-crushing blocks and spine-jarring tackles in the manner of a complacent fight manager. They could not hurt us.

Cheers Where Sneers, What Else?

I was quick to sneer at those aforementioned colleges and ridicule their losing efforts. Kenyon, which has lost six straight games and hadn't scored a touchdown this season until its one six-pointer of last weekend, was beneath my notice. Today its gridgers stand enshrined for me as a memorial to doggone cussedness. Kansas has lost seven in a row and Pennsylvania all six of its games. Their young men are to be cheered and congratulated for still being in school, let alone still on the football team. Illinois, which lost five of its first six games, and Cornell, which dropped its first four in a row, receive from me nothing but praise—and no more derision, I promise.

Because if those young men can absorb, day after day, a mere smidgin of the lumps and bruises those 14-year-olds handed me yesterday in a very shortened quarter of scrimmage—and they must—henceforth and forevermore they have my most sincere admiration.

You Missed Your Assignment Sir, Sorry!

My conversion began very simply when a pair of neighbor lads innocently invited me to participate in a game in the side yard. Henceforth I shall shudder at the names of Richard and Ronald Curvin, a pair of bright-faced youngsters who turned thumbs down on "touch" football. It had to be tackle. It was. And I backed up the line—although I have as yet to consummate a tackle. I will say that they were very gentlemanly about helping me up after each play, solidly wiping the grass out of my eyes and brushing off my torn and increasing, ly tattered clothes. I have not been knocked down with such authority since the day in 1946 when I wandered into the middle of a Davis-Blanchard practice scrimmage at West Point.

In my hazy typewriter-punctured world, I have clung to the supposition that 14-year-olds were just growing boys and that my village of Huntington was a nice, somnolent little town. Believe me when I say that our 14-year-olds as a whole are larger than the freshmen tackles at Notre Dame and trounce you with the glee and ability of a Leon Hart.

"I'm sure that Kenyon, Illinois, Cornell, Kansas and Penn could use them. And, as stiff and sore as I am right now, I wish that's where they were—particularly yesterday.

Gino Eyes Title Bout In Match Here Tonight

The wrestler who has been knocking them dead (figuratively) here in the past weeks will be shooting for a future match with champion Frank Stojak when he matches holds with Frank Faketty in the main event of a three-bout card tonight at Victoria Ballroom.

Gino Angelo "The Unbeatable" takes on Faketty in a two-of-three fall one-hour time limit main event, the winner advancing against Stojak at an early date.

Also appearing on the card will be the famous Kamiroff brothers. Ivan Kamiroff tangles with Angus Scott in a two-of-three fall 45-minute time limit semi-main event, while Boris Kamiroff grapples local boy Gordie Gordienko in the opener.

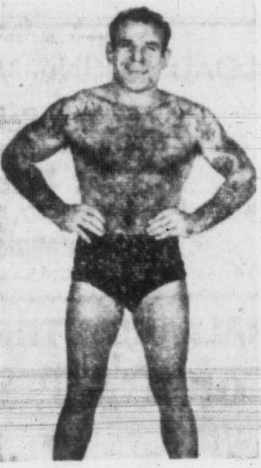

Action starts at 8.30.

Dynamiters Leave Cellar

KIMBERLEY, B.C. (CP)—Bill Kimberley Dynamiters squeezed out a 4-3 victory over Spokane Flyers here Wednesday night to move out of the Western International Hockey League cellar.

The win put Dynamiters in third place, one point ahead of Spokane.

Claude Bell was the big gun in Dynamiters' victory, driving home three goals. Buzz Mellor got the other. Ted Lebedia set up all four Kimberley tallies with Mellor also picking up a brace of assists.

Dodgers High On Rookie Cuban Star

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers' veteran infield may be revamped for 1955 because of a 22-year-old Cuban rookie shortstop named Humberto Chico Fernandez.

Fernandez currently is the No. 1 glamor boy of the Dodgers, even more highly prized than Karl Spooner, the young left-hander who broke into the majors last September with a pair of spectacular shut-outs.

Dodger vice-president E. J. "Baz" Bavasi, home from a tour of the Latin-American countries where he viewed a number of Dodger farmhands playing in the Cuban winter league, spoke glowingly of Fernandez.

"Fernandez has impressed everybody with his shortstop play in Cuba," Bavasi said. "If he can play that way in the big leagues, there will be a lot of changes made in our infield." Fernandez batted .282 last year at Montreal where he was regarded as the best shortstop ever to appear there. The Dodgers received bids from six clubs for his services, one of them as high as $100,000, but turned them all down.

"More money has been offered for Fernandez than for any young Dodger player since I've been connected with the club," said Bavasi.

Canucks Get Walt Trentini

CALGARY (CP)—Calgary Stampeders got down to the 15-player limit allowed in the Western Hockey League Wednesday when forward's Johnny Michaluk and Walter Trentini obtained hockey positions elsewhere.

Trentini, former star with the Crow's Nest Juniors, has been loaned to Vancouver Canucks. He will leave for Saskatoon Thursday where he will join Art Chapman's crew.

Michaluk has taken the position of hockey coach and sports director at Olds, Alta. He will be playing coach for the Olds entry in the Central Alberta League and will organize minor hockey leagues.

'Boardwalk' Billy Busts Up Ring List

NEW YORK (AP)—"Boardwalk" Billy Smith of Atlantic City became the No. 1 challenger to lightweight champion Archie Moore in the most startling shakeup in the latest ratings of Ring magazine.

Smith leaped from fifth to first in the 175-pound class by knocking out Harold Johnson, who had been leading champion Moore until he was stopped in the late rounds of his title bid. Johnson was dropped to fifth place, just ahead of Floyd Patterson, the fast-rising Olympic grad from Brooklyn.

The heavyweight rankings were revised due to the long idleness of Jimmy Slade, Roland LaStarza and Hurricane Tomny Jackson. Heinz Neuhaus of Germany, who recently defended his European championship, took over Slade's No. 4 spot.

NINO TOP CONTENDER

The ranking contender behind heavyweight champ Rocky Marciano still is Nino Valdes, the Cuban, followed by Britain's Don Cockell and Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati.

When Johnny Saxton took over the welterweight crown by winning a disputed decision over Kid Gavilan at Philadelphia, the ratings were revised to make Gavilan the No. 1 challenger because of the controversy over the verdict. Carmen Basilio, the rugged Canastota, N.Y., left-hander, was dropped to the No. 2 spot, although he probably will get first show at the new championship bout.

HOWARD'S VICTORY STANDS, SAYS COMISH

HALIFAX (CP)—Chairman W. B. Moriarty said Wednesday the Halifax Athletic Commission "does not see fit" to change the official unanimous decision that gave Canadian lightweight champion Dick (Kid) Howard victory over Cuba's Orlando Zulueta last Friday night.

Zulueta's manager, Pop Ryan of New York, had protested the fight. "He said his boy had been robbed by a home town decision."

Yanks Sign Berra, But Problem Ahead

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees, having cleared the end of this month with the one obstacle with the signing of Yogi Berra, still had plenty to worry about today.

Number one item in the head ache department was the status of Allie Reynolds, highest paid pitcher on the club. Number two was the general pitching shortage which general manager George Weiss admitted has him "gravely concerned."

"We need starting pitchers," Weiss told reporters Wednesday. "We're going to the minor league convention in Houston at the end of this month with the specific purpose of trying to deal for one or two starting pitchers. I intend to discuss this matter with Casey Stengel as soon as he returns from a hunting trip."

Weiss was distressed over the accident that befell Reynolds in Colorado Springs last Thursday. The star right-hander suffered an 18-stitch cut on the index finger of his pitching hand that may end his brilliant career.

Reynolds, who had been undecided whether to pitch again next year or devote full time to his oil interests, was not expected to know his fate for several days.

WHL Game Postponed
EDMONTON (CP)—Saturday's scheduled Western Hockey League game between Calgary Stampeders and Edmonton Flyers has been postponed until late March, it was learned Wednesday night.

The hockey postponement results from the opening game of the Western Interprovincial Football Union final being played the same night.

No date has been set for the re-scheduled game.

Forest Combine Feared in B.C.

TLC Told Management Plan Could Kill Small Firms

One company could finally gain control of British Columbia's fabulous forest resources under the forest-management plan, Frank Mitchell, former CCF MLA, told a meeting of labor men Wednesday night.

Mr. Mitchell, addressing fellow delegates of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (AFL-TLC), said the management plan was eliminating competition in the forest industry.

"I have interviewed three small operators recently. All said forest management would put them out of business in time," Mr. Mitchell said.

The speaker pointed out that big operators were getting more out of a tree by capitalizing on by-products than the small operators could possibly do.

MERGERS POSSIBLE

Forest management licenses, he said, were granted to companies for all time. Forest land involved in the licenses could never be sold, given away or divided by the company. But there was nothing to stop mergers.

Mr. Mitchell pointed to the merger of H. R. MacMillan and Bloedel, Stewart and Welch shortly after each had received separate licenses. He wondered if a merger would arise between B.C. Forest Products Ltd., now applying for a license, and the mammoth MacMillan-Bloedel operations.

"If things continue the way they are going it could be that before very long a single company could control our forest resources through mergers," Mr. Mitchell said.

He was giving a report on the findings of himself and a fellow member on forest management to give other delegates the picture so they will know the situation when the council takes a vote on whether or not it should support the plan.

STUDY RECOMMENDED

"It is such an immense subject it should be thoroughly studied before the council takes any stand. We make no recommendation ourselves but the council can decide for itself whether it wants to support the small operator, known as 'the backbone of free enterprise' or the large operator who will make the most opportunity of all the assets in timber," said Mr. Mitchell.

The people of B.C. were giving away their greatest resource, 40 cents on every dollar earned in the province coming from the forests—in return for stabilization of employment in the forest industries, greater utilization of the resource and maintaining a sustained yield, Mr. Mitchell said.

He personally thought that the law of economics would decide the forest policy. Council tabled the question for further reports. More will be heard at a Nov. 17 meeting.

Oak Bay Civic Staff, Council Talk Wages

Oak Bay firemen and municipal inside and outside staffs will meet with a bargaining committee from the Oak Bay Council next Tuesday to discuss new wage contracts.

Firemen are not asking for specific wage increases except in the case of men doing mechanical work. Local 730 of the International Association of Firefighters, bargaining authority for the men, sent demands to a meeting of the Oak Bay council Wednesday evening, asking that men doing mechanical work be paid $10 more than normal service pay, plus $1.25 per hour for call-ins of a mechanical nature.

Other demands include two extra paid statutory holidays, three days paid compassionate leave in the event of serious illness or death in an employee's family, and changes in the seniority system.

Oak Bay Municipal Employees' Association has not yet presented suggestions for new wage contracts for inside and outside workers, but is expected to do so Tuesday.

PC's to Meet Tuesday

Inaugural meeting of the new Federal Riding Association of the Progressive Conservative Party of Canada, will be held in the Business and Professional Women's Club rooms, 902 Government Street, at 8 p.m., next Tuesday. Guest speaker will be General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P.

'Anti-Labor' Attitude Of Press, Radio Hit

Boilermakers' union registered a strong protest against the "anti-labor attitude" of C.J.V.I. radio commentator Dick Batey and the Colonist editorial columns in a letter read at a meeting of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (AFL-TLC) Wednesday night.

Percy Rayment, secretary of the council and veteran labor official, shrugged the radio commentator off as "strictly minor league stuff" which carried no great weight. Decision was made to have boilermakers' officials at the next meeting to substantiate charges.

1,000 Witnesses To Gather Here

Sect's Fall Assembly, November 12-14, Will See Big Delegation to Victoria

The Vancouver Island Circuit of Jehovah's Witnesses has chosen Victoria again as the centre in which to hold its fall assembly. From November 12-14, inclusive, about 1,000 delegates from Victoria and Up-Island points will meet at the Club Sirocco, C. Roberts, presiding minister of the Victoria congregation, announced today.

The theme and purpose of the assembly will be "Training for the Work of the Ministry" and one of the outstanding features, Mr. Roberts said, will be the showing of the film on Saturday night entitled "The New World Society in Action." This film depicts many of the world-wide activities of Jehovah's Witnesses such as their assembly of 165,000 at Yankee Stadium, New York, in 1953; their printing plant at Brooklyn, N.Y., turning out on two of their rotary presses nearly 500 "Awake" magazines every 60 seconds; also scenes from a convention in Central Africa.

Friday night, Roy Strand, the circuit's supervisor, will conduct the ministry school which regularly plays an important part in the training program. At this particular session an eight-year-old boy, David Marston, will give a reading from the New World Translation of the Hebrew Scriptures.

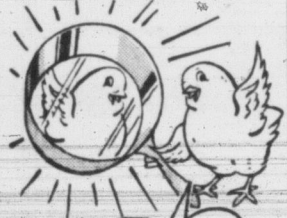

J. H. Nathan, district supervisor for western Canada, will be an important speaker in the assembly program. On Friday night he will discuss the importance of training ministers for the preaching of the gospel. On Saturday, he will discuss on "Baptism" and this will be followed by an immersion. Sunday at 3 p.m., Mr. Nathan will deliver the highlight of the con-

POLICE PROBE VANCOUVER 'KIDNAPPING'

VANCOUVER (BUP)—

Police are investigating a note from a man claiming he had been kidnapped.

The note was left in a city letter box Thursday afternoon and discovered when the letters were being sorted at the main post office.

Police said the note indicated that its writer had been kidnapped in a car. The license number of the car was included in the note, which was unsigned.

Lie Detector Tests to Follow Gem-Throwing Spat of Socialites

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—About 40 members of the international social set will be given lie detector tests as the result of a missing $25,000 diamond clip, police said today.

Detective Barney Kaplan said the jewelry was missing after a quarrel between Duncan McMartin, Canadian millionaire, and his wife during a Saturday night party at the home of Eric Pinder.

Kaplan gave this account: McMartin went into his wife's bedroom, returned with a tray full of her jewelry, and began flinging it at her, item by item.

In all, McMartin threw about $100,000 worth of jewelry at his wife. Later, when Mrs. McMartin picked up her scattered gems, she noticed a diamond clip pin worth $25,000 was missing.

A thorough hunt by the McMartins after the party broke up didn't reveal the pin but it did turn up a $4,500 pair of diamond earrings they hadn't missed.

Police had hoped to solve the mystery quietly, but brought it into the open Wednesday night with announcement that they plan to call in each of the Miami Beach, Nassau and Bermuda society figures to be questioned individually.

B.C. Textbook Plan Favored in Alberta

EDMONTON (BUP)—The Edmonton convention of the Alberta School Trustees Association voted Wednesday to ask the government to adopt a textbook rental plan similar to one operated in British Columbia.

Under the B.C. plan, the only one of its kind in Canada, students in the first six grades receive their text books free. Up to grade eight the books are rented for $3.50 a year, and the rental is $4 a year in grades 10 to 12.

PLANE'S ROUTE—One of the greatest air-sea-rescue missions in history has just ended on a 120-mile-wide and 2,000-mile-long stretch of the Atlantic Ocean (dotted line) in search of a Navy Super-Constellation presumed to have crashed with 42 persons aboard. The plane was en route from Patuxent, Md. (1), to Port Lyautey, North Africa (2). —(NEA Newsmag).

Massive Plane Search Ended—Bad Weather

NEW YORK (UP)—The navy has abandoned the search for survivors from a transport plane that crashed in the Atlantic Ocean with 42 persons aboard.

430 B.C. Miles Of Trans-Canada Need Rebuilding

More than 430 miles of the Trans-Canada Highway through British Columbia still are sub-standard, and require reconstruction, public works officials said today.

Of the total Trans-Canada route of 685.05 miles—from Victoria to the Alberta border at Yoho Park—199 miles are in first class standard condition.

Highway crews are working on another 53.19 miles, for which contracts have been let. More than 210 miles of the highway are paved, but require complete reconstruction, while 221 miles are still gravel road.

In the year September 1, 1953, to August 31, 1954, 30.1 miles of new construction were recorded on the Trans-Canada Highway. The average expenditure on the Trans-Canada by the government is between five and six million dollars annually.

The federal government contributes one-half of the total spent.

B.C. estimated its expenditure on the T-C for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1955, at $6,513,000.

Vice Adm. Laurance T. Du Bose, commander of the eastern sea frontier, said the search for the missing Super-Constellation was being called off "due to extreme weather conditions."

The plane took off from Patuxent, Md., for the Azores and Africa last Sunday. It was last reported 90 minutes later when it was approximately 480 miles at sea.

More than 200 planes and 30 ships joined in the search for the missing plane.

In calling off the hunt Du Bose said "every part of the area was covered in the course of the all-out search."

10-INCH SNOWFALL IN ONTARIO

TORONTO (CP)—A 10-inch overnight snowfall snarled traffic Wednesday at Shelburne, 60 miles northwest of here.

Caldeon, 35 miles to the northwest of Toronto, reported upwards of 5 inches.

Weather forecasters said Wednesday that winter is still skirting Toronto. About an inch of snow fell in the city Tuesday night but it melted as fast as it hit the pavement.

Dr. King Hits Milk Price Decontrol

VANCOUVER (CP)—A member of the B.C. Milk Board Wednesday told the Royal Commission investigating the milk industry that milk was a public utility and that milk prices should be fully controlled.

Dr. H. M. King told Mr. Justice J. V. Cline that in his opinion regulations should cover price to the farmer, spread to the distributor and cost to the consumer. He said this would work to the advantage of both the public and the industry.

Dr. King said decontrol, contrary to the milk board's belief, had not worked well. "As a member of the board I had looked for at least a one-cent drop in price to the consumer. However, the board is disturbed because decontrol benefits have not been passed on," Dr. King said.

He also said the wholesale price was giving concern to retailers.

mentary undersecretary for foreign affairs, told the House of Commons that Peiping has "accepted this claim as covering the entire benefits and compensation for all losses involved."

Ten persons lost their lives in the incident, described at the time by Foreign Secretary Eden as "a savage and inexcusable attack on an unarmed passenger aircraft."

An American amphibious aircraft landed on a rough sea and picked up eight survivors before the airliner, which was on its way from Singapore to Hong Kong, sank.

Turton said the British government had noted assurances given by the Chinese vice-minister for foreign affairs that "measures have been taken to prevent the recurrence of such incidents."

Chief Egyptian Delegate to UN Dies at Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Dr. Mahmoud Azmi, leader of the Egyptian delegation to the United Nations, died Wednesday after collapsing at a meeting of the Security Council.

Dr. Azmi was addressing the council on the Israeli-Egyptian item when he collapsed. Egyptian sources said Dr. Azmi suffered a heart attack. His condition was complicated by the fact that he suffered from diabetes.

Delegates carried him from the council chamber to an anteroom where doctors examined him.

Chest Gift to SA Brings Resignation

TRAIL, B.C. (CP)—An additional grant of $500 to the Salvation Army by the Trail Welfare Society (Community Chest) has resulted in the resignation of the society's finance committee chairman and first vice-president.

Jack H. Lunny, announced Wednesday that he had resigned as the society's budget committee chairman because he felt he was "obviously out of touch with the majority opinion of the directors."

Pointing out that the Army's request for an additional $500 had twice before been refused, Mr. Lunny said the decision was based not on the needs of the Army or in relation to the funds available for the needs of other groups, but only because the directors felt that a refusal would result in the withdrawal of the Salvation Army from the Welfare Society.

GAGLARDI TOO BUSY TO SHOW PLANE LOG

Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi said Wednesday "pressure of business" has forced delay of a promised inspection of his government-owned plane's log.

Mr. Gagliardi had said he would allow a Times reporter to go over the log with him on Tuesday, after a Kamloops report in the Times two weeks ago suggested he was using the place for personal week-end trips to his Kamloops home. However, the works minister was unable to arrange an appointment for Tuesday, and left for Ottawa Wednesday. Before leaving, he said the inspection would be arranged upon his return in about 10 days.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Tantivy, tantivy, tantivy, a hunting you can go. But not me. Or, some thoughts for outdoorsmen from an indoorsman.

Since time immemorial, men have ventured into the wilderness with various types of weapons, their intent being to bring back trophies of the chase.

In the stone club and bow-and-arrow days, the trophies of the chase brought back by the hunters were usually four-footed animals.

Since the invention of gunpowder and the development of the high-powered, accurate rifle, the hunters have been able to vary the type of game which falls to their keen eyes. Frequently, they have been skillful enough to kill each other.

Undoubtedly, this is all to the good from the viewpoint of the four-footed animals, but it causes a certain amount of distress to the resultant widows and orphans.

Therefore, on behalf of widows and orphans yet to come, let us consider a slight change in the game regulations.

As they now stand, the game regulations permit the issuance of a hunting license to anyone who has the cash to cover the license fee.

If this is a good principle, the same principle should be applied to the issuance of driver's licenses.

Why should a man who wishes to drive a car have to undergo tests? The man who wishes to fire a gun doesn't.

Why should a potential driver prove to an examiner he knows how to handle a car? A potential hunter doesn't have to prove he can handle a gun.

Why should the motor vehicle branch provide tests for reaction time? A man can get a hunting license if his reaction time is slower than your brother-in-law reaching for the dinner cheese.

Why should the driver's examiner worry about eye tests, and perhaps issue a restricted license requiring eye-glasses? If you're a hunter you can get a license if you have zero-zero vision, and you're not required to use glasses at all if you can take it straight from the bottle.

All of this is no doubt okay, and helps keep down the hunter population.

But, again speaking on behalf of the widows and orphans yet to come, may I humbly suggest:

A high-powered rifle is at least as lethal a weapon as a motor car.

A man who is licensed to use a gun should be examined and tested at least as thoroughly as a man who is licensed to use an automobile.

Then we could have a few new charges in the law books, to wit: shooting without due care; careless hunting; hunting while impaired; and shooting the cow instead of the bull.

Tantivy, tantivy, tantivy, a hunting YOU can go. I'm staying home in my armor-plated kitchen.

An address given Wednesday by well-known B.C. commentator Ernest Watkins to the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, will be broadcast over station CJVI at 10.15 tonight.

Eleven-year-old Donald Bird, whose eye was thought to be in danger after a firecracker accident a week before Halloween, is now reported to be recovered. The boy had been playing with some other youngsters near his home at 1534 Annapolis when a firecracker bounced from the sidewalk and exploded in his face.

Kurt Brunoff, German Consul for Alberta and British Columbia, will address a meeting of the German-Canadian Club of Victoria at the White Eagle Hall at 8 tonight.

Members of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce will also attend to discuss means of assisting new Canadians becoming Canadian citizens.

Gerald Andrews, surveyor general and director of surveys and mapping for the government of British Columbia, will be panel moderator during one discussion feature to be held during a photogrammetry meeting in the Hotel Fairmont, San Francisco, Calif., Dec. 7. He will preside during discussion on helicopter operations in connection with the mapping and management of wildland areas.

The provincial government today authorized transfer of $2,000,000 from the Hospital Insurance Fund to consolidated revenue.

The money was paid into the Hospital Insurance Stabilization Fund during the fiscal years 1948-49 and 1949-50.

Another report of strawberries and raspberries still ripening on the vines came today from Mrs. A. J. Lund, 1447 Taunton.

Mrs. Lund picked enough raspberries to serve her family at dinner Wednesday, but says that the strawberries, although ripe, are not as plentiful or tasty.

Stanley Charles Rife, 706 Craigflower, failed to comply in three days with police warnings to improve the condition of his car. In city police court today he paid $10 for inadequate brakes, $10 for lacking a muffler and $5 for failing to have a tail light.

Donald Williams, Sidney, was fined $250 in city police court today for impaired driving and an additional $50 for driving without a license.

Police told Magistrate H. C. Hall Wednesday that the accused had been arrested after driving erratically on Johnson Street the previous night. When asked for his license he produced one which he later admitted was his brother's.

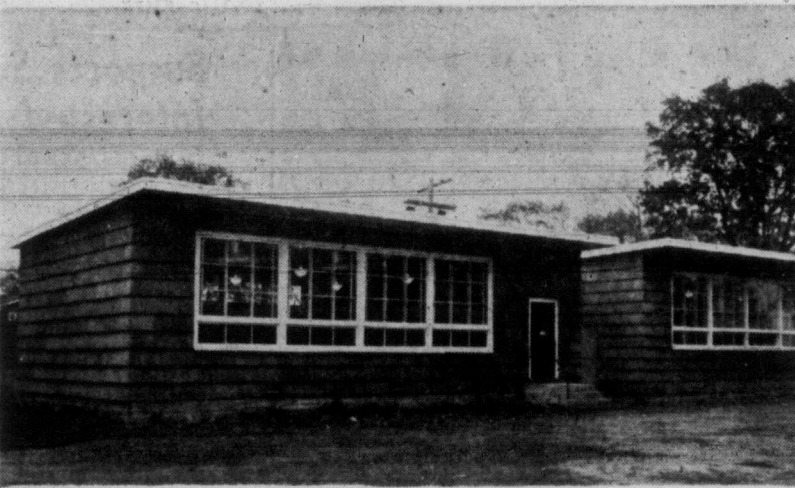

Saanich-Esquamalt Federal Riding Liberal Association meets in Langford Community Hall, Nov. 15, at 8 p.m. Dr. F. T. Fairley, M.P. will be speaker. President J. Ronald Grant will report on a Young Liberal Convention held in Ottawa. There will be refreshments.

Alan Edgar Perrault, HMCS Sioux, who was convicted in police court Tuesday of taking a car without the owner's consent, was fined $100 or 15 days today.

He was found guilty after a witness, whom he said could alibi him, testified that he hadn't seen Perrault the day the car was taken as he had been in Port Alberni.

Seeks Re-election To Police Board

George E. Askey will seek re-election to Saanich police commission in the December elections, it was learned today. Mr. Askey is the first person to announce his candidature for a single seat on the commission. He has served as police commissioner for two consecutive terms. He was first elected to office in 1948.

Fire Damages Bowling Alley At Duncan

Damage amounting to $4,000 resulted Wednesday night in a fire in Duncan Bowling Centre in the up-island city's business district. The fire was reported at 11.30—half an hour after bowlers had left. Duncan Volunteer Fire Brigade had the blaze under control by midnight.

Damage was confined to the front of the one-story, wooden frame building and alleys were not harmed.

Indication is that the fire started near a candy counter. About $80 worth of candy and cigarettes was destroyed. Window panes in the front of the building were smashed but nearby buildings were not damaged.

Michael Wemsrich, owner, took over the bowling centre only three weeks ago from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Payne.

RUM MONKEYSHINES MADE HIM RANK WITH GOLDBRAID

Full Admiral Sails in Sioux for Orient

By TIMES NAVY REPORTER The only full admiral in the Royal Canadian Navy will sail for the Far East Sunday in the Pacific Command destroyer, HMCS Sioux.

He is Admiral Sir Archibald Cecil Aubrey Snavely, who joined the RCN at the outbreak of the Second World War, after an exciting career in the Royal Navy.

Retiree by nature, Admiral Snavely refuses to discuss his career. However, Cmdr. A. H. Rankin, CO of Sioux, and Lieut.-Cmdr. Frank Barclay, executive officer, have compiled an official biography, after considerable research.

Admiral Snavely was born April 1, 1897, and on Jan. 1, 1913, began his startling naval career as a cadet in HMS Britannia. In 1915, he became a midshipman, and in 1917 was named acting sub-lieutenant. He was confirmed as sub in 1921, and made a full lieutenant in 1922.

Very shortly after he left the Royal Navy under circumstances never satisfactorily explained. But it was believed his then commanding officer ordered this entry in the log: Snavely, charge against: monkeying around too much.

In any event, Admiral Snavely left England and emigrated to the colonies. He first appeared on this coast when he served with Canadian Pacific Steamships in an unknown capacity, early in 1923. Later he successfully engaged in rum-running and sold insurance on the side.

It was then he acquired his intimate knowledge of rum, which he retains to this day. Cmdr. Rankin refers to Admiral Snavely as being "very spirited," in the full sense of the word.

About 1929, the versatile naval officer was driving a street car on the Esquimalt run, when it broke down at the dockyard gate. So, rather than walk back to town, he joined the navy again.

His rise then became meteoric. He entered as a lieutenant commander but it was quickly learned that he was useless in that rank, and was thus promoted to commander.

There the story of success was again repeated; he was no good as a commander, and quickly earned the four rings of a captain. Promotion after promotion followed, as personnel officers desperately tried to promote him out of the way until he finally became a full admiral.

Fantastic and hard to believe though the story of Admiral Snavely may be, it is fully attested to by Cmdr. Rankin, Lieut.-Cmdr. Barclay and other members of the wardrobe of HMCS Sioux.

Their only worry is, some jealous ship in the fleet may try to have him transferred before 11.30 a.m. Sunday, when Sioux is scheduled to leave for the Far East.

RCN's only full admiral (centre) discussed monkey business with Lieut.-Cmdr. Frank Barclay (left), executive officer of HMCS Sioux, and Cmdr.

A. H. Rankin, commanding officer. Admiral sails in Sioux for Far East, leaving Sunday. (Times photo by Bill Halkett.)

7 Sites Settled For New Schools

Government Orders Smaller Classrooms

Sites for seven new schools included in a school building program to come before ratepayers in December were revealed by officials of Greater Victoria School Board today.

At the same time it was learned the Department of Education has asked the board to make certain revision to three of its school plans in order to cut down the size of classrooms.

The department is understood to have set 34 by 40 feet as the maximum size for classrooms, inclusive of cloakroom space. Such classrooms must accommodate up to 40 pupils.

Revised plans are scheduled to be submitted to the department next Monday. Department approval of the program is expected before the next school board meeting Nov. 15.

John Gough, senior municipal school inspector, said progress being made by the board and the department with regard to approval of plans was "steady and very satisfactory."

LOCATIONS LISTED

Three of seven sites announced today are recently selected school locations. The other four are carry-overs from the 1953 school building program which was defeated last December. Here is the list:

1. Colquhoun Junior High—New project. Twenty-six-room structure to be erected on 14-acre site on north side of new Island Highway outlet, east of Interurban Road. Adjacent property is Capital Lands subdivision.

2. Marigold Elementary—Was included in 1953 program. Four-room school to be built on 14 acres on western part of Rudd's Farm, bounded by Burnside, Acorn, Grange and new Island Highway.

3. Glanford Elementary—New project. Six-room school to be built on nine-acre site on west side of Judah Street. This unit will provide relief to overcrowded McKenzie Avenue School.

4. Gordon Head Elementary—Was included in 1953 program. Six-room school to be built on 8.5 acres at Kenmore Avenue and Torquay Drive.

5. Macaulay Elementary—Included in 1953 program. Eight-room school to be built on five acres between Lyall Street and Wychbury Avenue near Work Point Barracks. School will serve children in south part of Esquimalt, including children of service personnel now obliged to travel by bus to John Stubbins School at Belmont. Federal government will bear a part of the cost of this project.

6. Hampton Road Elementary—New project. Four to six portable annexes, now in use at various established schools, will be grouped on land adjacent to Hampton Road Park, recently reserved by Saanich Council for school purposes.

7. Lake Hill Elementary—Included in 1953 program. Four portable annexes to be moved to 9.86 acres on Morris Drive between Ambassador and Lucas.

Alcan Freed of School Tax In Five Industrial Areas

B.C. cabinet today authorized five industrial townships in the Kitimat-Kemano area, in accord with the Alcan agreement.

The declaration frees Aluminum Co. of Canada from payment of land and school taxes on improvements in the area. Ordinary taxes will be paid only on the unimproved value of the land.

These terms were set out in the original agreement signed late in 1950.

Each industrial township will be, in effect, a village municipality. Administration will be carried out by a three-man council, one appointed by Lands Minister R. E. Sommers, one by Alcan, and the third by those two appointees.

Alcan requested the establishment of the townships, early this spring. Until today, only the Kenney Dam was covered by a township declaration, and Alcan's multi-million dollar power plant, transmission lines, buildings and other equipment were liable to taxation.

The company is obliged to provide public services to provincial standards in the industrial townships.

The townships will be named Skins Lake, Bear Lake, Cutoff Creek, Kemano, and Transmission Line.

The declaration is retroactive to August 3, when production of aluminum started at the Kitimat smelter.

B.C. Teachers' Convention to Hear Chisholm

"What Are Teachers For?" will be the subject of an address to be given at Victoria High School tonight by Dr. Brock Chisholm, former director-general of the United Nations' World Health Organization.

The world-famous psychiatrist-lecturer will face an audience composed mainly of teachers. His address will mark the start of the 8th annual Vancouver Island Teachers' convention.

Tonight's meeting is open to the public and will begin at 8. Apart from opening formalities and short addresses of welcome to the 1,500 delegates, Dr. Chisholm will be the only speaker.

Friday schools will be closed in all Island centres and teachers will meet at S. J. Willis Junior High School for all-day in-session training. Saturday morning, the teachers will hold the annual Vancouver Island sectional meeting of the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

Tea On Mountain Saved Alpinists From Avalanche

A pot of tea on Mount Robson, British Columbia, made all the difference in the launching of the California Himalaya Expedition against Makalu, 27,790-foot near neighbor of Mount Everest.

The Makalu climbing party, which included William Unsold, who will give an illustrated account of the expedition Friday night at Oak Bay Junior High School, made a "shake-down" trip to Robson to learn one another's capabilities.

The lecture will be open to the public. It starts at 8 p.m. On taking off from one of the high camps on Robson, the party had a discussion about taking hot tea for the day's climb. Finally a 15-minute delay was agreed on to make the tea.

As the party proceeded, it came to a 200-yard stretch that was swept by avalanches, and on arriving within steps of the danger area, a huge avalanche occurred.

No tea, no climbers. Mr. Unsold, who was one of two climbers to reach the high point on the expedition's climb to the previously unexplored Makalu peak, is studying at the University of Washington in Seattle.

8 Islanders Near Home On Troopship

Korea Soldiers To Dock Nov. 16

Eight Victoria and Vancouver Island soldiers are on a troopship now crossing the Pacific from the Far East bringing 1,000 Canadian troops home, it was learned today.

The ship is expected to dock in Seattle on or about Nov. 16. Victoria and Island personnel of the 2nd Battalion of the Black Watch (Royal Highlanders of Canada) from Montreal aboard the ship are:

WO II M. L. Augustine, 361 Kinross Street; Sgt. A. L. Chitman, Alberni; Sgt. H. E. Wright, 27 Howard Avenue, Nanaimo; Pte. L. H. Byrnell, 910 Market Street; Pte. H. C. Lawson, Duncan, and L-Sgt. J. O. Piercy, RR2, Courtenay.

Island men on the same ship of other army units are: Cpl. A. L. Creelman, Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, of 990 Lavender, and Pte. R. J. Popplestone, Canadian Provost Corps, of 225 White Road, Duncan.

60-DAY FURLOUGH

This is the first return of Canadian troops from the Far East since the Canadian government decided to cut its armed forces in that sector by two-thirds.

The Black Watch Battalion will reorganize at Aldershot, N.S., after the homebound soldiers have had their 60-day leave. There are about 800 Black Watch on the troopship.

Troops arriving in Seattle will be taken home by three special trains. Two will head directly east, the other to bring 70 British Columbians to Vancouver.

B.C. Forest Products Application Gets Support From Labor

Victoria Labor Council has written Lands Minister R. E. Sommers advising him of the council's support of the forest management application of B.C. Forest Products.

The council's letter said the organization favors the proposal, because it will assure the firm a long-range supply of raw materials for its Victoria plant.

A resolution to that effect was passed at the council's October 20 meeting.

ASK The TIMES

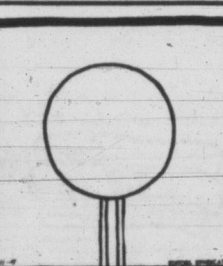

Q.—Do you know the history of a very old church, almost a wreck, which stands on a hill at—I think it is Maple Bay, outside Duncan—also of three large graves covered with cement, and a smaller one a short distance from the building? Mrs. M.K.D.

A.—The history of the "Old Stone Church," on Comliken Hill, "in the shadow of Mount Tzouhalem," built in 1870 by the Rev. Peter Rondeault, the first Roman Catholic missionary to the Indians in the Cowichan Bay area, is too long to be told in this column. There is material in the Provincial Archives which tells the story of the building of the church and the Indians' contact with Christianity.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times Editor." Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

DROODLES

I read the other day where the Bubble Dancers of Brooklyn (Local 45), had passed a resolution against the sale of bean shooters and sling shots. Next thing you know some crack-pot will get the idea of passing laws against tilting pin-ball machines, borrowing Cadillac hub-caps and introducing yourself to girls you accidentally happen to catch up with on the street. If this happened, I wouldn't have anything to do evenings and would have to spend all my time at the pool hall, and this could turn me into a juvenile delinquent. Believe me, it's un-American ideas like these that make red-blooded boys join the Foreign Legion or the Public Library.

Scoop, Measure Shortening With This Plastic Gadget!

By PENNY SAVER

I'm what you might call a sometime cook. Every so often I get a domestic urge and I invade the sanctity of my mother's kitchen with visions of treating the family to some delicacy. Whether it's the chifon cake, Italian pizza or cream puffs, I seldom hear words of praise from those around me. Someone usually says, "All that mess for this?" and then they eye my prize dish sceptically, as though it might poison them.

I've found that my biggest trouble is measuring shortening. You housewives will know just what I mean. In most cases you have to use a measuring cup, and by the time you've scooped up some shortening, pushed it down and leveled it off at the desired measure, everything, including you, is uncomfortably sticky. You then have to wash out the measuring cup and dry it thoroughly, so that when you measure dry ingredients, they won't stick to the side of the cup. All in all, it's a messy procedure.

So the other day, when the words "shortening measure" caught my eye, I stopped to look at the new gadget which measures shortening quickly, easily, cleanly and accurately... and I bought one.

It's a simple little plastic rig with a plunger which you adjust to the desired measure. You then fill it with shortening and level off with a knife.

Push the plunger now, and the shortening will pop out in a messless blob, and it will be just the exact amount you want. Nothing is lost through messing around.

As for price, you can buy yourself one of these handy gadgets for only 39 cents. I'll say it's worth every penny!

Boys and girls from six to twelve will look nice, and keep warm in bright red, fleece-lined duffel coats. Made of long-wearing gabardine, the coats have hoods, roomy pockets and fasten with the darndest little wooden pegs and white cord... an unusual idea that the kids will love. Only $7.50 will buy one.

Suspects Son's Friend Interested in His Wife

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Making an issue of it is likely to bring to a head a situation which might otherwise just pass away. A mother writes:

(Q)—"My son's best friend has lately returned from Korea and practically lives at my son's house. I suspect that he is interested in my daughter-in-law, but I don't know for sure. Should I warn him about this and tell him of my suspicions? I feel that we are sitting on the top of a volcano which might blow up at any moment. My son is so much in love and so glib, as far as his wife is concerned, that I am afraid that he is blind to what is going on under his very nose."

(A)—By telling your son of your suspicions you might make an issue of a matter that would otherwise never come to a head. If he believed you and became suspicious of his wife's interest in his best friend, he might drive her into doing something she had never until then thought of.

You have nothing but your imagination to go on at the moment. Your daughter-in-law may find this man very attractive, and she may enjoy having him in their home. But that does not mean that she has fallen in love with him.

This man may be like many young men who have returned from overseas. They find most of their friends married, engaged, or going steady. As a result, they feel out of things and lost.

Because your son is his best friend, he seeks companionship in his home. It gives him something to do in his free time, and it is pleasant to be with young people with congenial interests. Let it stand at that until there is proof that there is more to it.

You might forestall trouble by suggesting to your son that he and his wife invite some of your daughter-in-law's girl friends to their home and try to interest this young man in them.

As a special service to our readers, Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15 cents in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

It introduces an exclusive formula that resists scuffing and stays bright under damp-mopping like no substitute can! It dries with a finish so hard your floors are bound to stay brighter for six, seven, even up to ten weeks! Use it from now on and you won't have to wax so often! Improved Hard Gloss Glo-Coat is now at your store. Accept no substitute! It's in the regular yellow can with the green band.

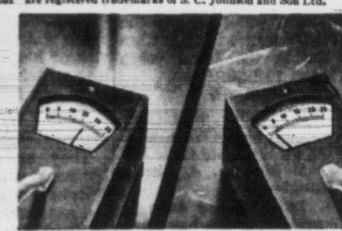

"Johnson's", "Hard Gloss" and "Glo-Coat" are registered trademarks of S. C. Johnson and Son Ltd.

You can test floor polishes exactly the way the experts do it at Johnson's Wax famous Research Tower. Apply Hard Gloss Glo-Coat to half a kitchen floor and put any substitute brand on the other half.

A dozen kitchen parties won't give your floor the rugged wear the Johnson's Wax test floor gets daily. For six weeks, hundreds walk on it and it's regularly damp-mopped. Then comes the Gloss Meter test...

This photoelectric device proves eyes don't deceive. Just as your own floor will show after weeks of traffic and damp-mopping, Hard Gloss Glo-Coat scores a brightness rating of 16... the substitute polish a 4.

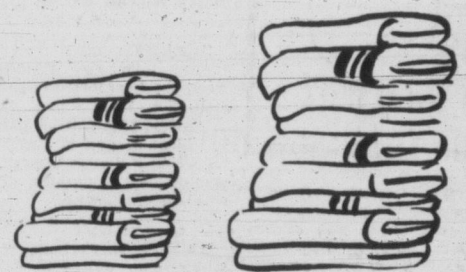

TRY IT!

New formula Hard Gloss Glo-Coat now on your dealer's shelves, in the regular yellow can with the green band. ENDS SCUFFED-UP FLOORS

With the Greatest of Ease...

Because

You will have no more heavy clothes baskets to lift... no more worrying about the weather... no more concern about clothes getting twisted or torn on the line. Your automatic clothes dryer gently tumbles the clothes dry, with no effort on your part. Your wash comes out fluffily dry, unfaded, just the way you want it. See your dealer for a demonstration.

B. C. ELECTRIC

Between Ourselves

By ELIZABETH FORBES

A tall dark-eyed woman with a soft compelling voice, is staging what she calls "a lone crusade" to save the egg as it is cooked in any shape or form by a majority of housewives.

Her slogan is "don't cook eggs at too high a temperature and never... Never... Never... boil them."

Dorothy Batcheller is the business name of this interesting woman (in private life she is Mrs. D. J. MacKinnon) and she is home economics director with the Poultry Products Institute of Canada, Inc. "A privately sponsored non-profit organization," she explains, organized by the poultry industry, producers and allied trades. Her work is to act as liaison between the producer and consumer and from the consumer back to the producer.

Regarding her campaign to save eggs from "being ruined through over-cooking" Dorothy Batcheller tells us seriously, "leather is all right on the sole of a shoe and rubber is good in its place... but lets not cook our eggs until they taste and feel like either rubber or leather."

Most housewives cook eggs "in the shell" at far too high a temperature, this home economist says, and they lose their protein value. It's the same with poached or fried eggs.

There's all the difference in a poached or fried egg brought gently to a solid form and those that have been rushed in boiling water or fat. One way... rubber. The other way, nice texture and good flavor.

As for eggs, "cooked in the shell," Dorothy Batcheller says, "start them in cold water, bring them just to a boiling point. Then take them off the heat and set them aside, covered... for three minutes if you wish an egg with firm white and soft centre; four minutes for firm white and firm centre; five minutes of an egg that is beginning to harden and 20 minutes for hard cooked eggs."

There you are, housewives, how about trying it tomorrow morning!

Talks... Writes... and Travels

Laura Batcheller (it's her maiden name) graduated from University of Toronto with a degree in household science. "That will date me," she said with a quiet laugh, "they call it home economics today." Her work with the Poultry Institute is comparatively new but she likes it immensely. She travels across Canada from time to time, lecturing to home economics classes in universities; speaking on the radio and talking to women's groups in various cities and towns.

At home in Belleville, Ont., she is president of the University Women's Club and vice-president of the Women's Canadian Club. This is only her second visit to Victoria. The first was, of a few hours duration last spring, when she was on her way to conduct a cooking school in New Westminster. "My husband came west with me," she tells us. "We left Toronto on a grey day, arrived in Winnipeg to find it 8 below zero and then came into Victoria where it was 60 above. It was just like going to Florida."

"We toured your city, walked along Government Street but we didn't have time for tea at the Empress Hotel... (We were having tea in the Empress as she talked... and she was thoroughly enjoying every crumb of it.)"

Both Dorothy Batcheller and her husband are ardent fly fishers. "And we plan to come to Vancouver Island some day soon and try our luck," she says. In the meantime, this tall dark-eyed woman with the soft, compelling voice is continuing her crusade to save eggs from mediocre cooking and to make the women of Canada more and more conscious of the food values in poultry products.

Brothers Present Gifts

Miss Sally Braun was honored when Mrs. D. Crosby and Mrs. J. Webb entertained with a miscellaneous shower at the Lee Avenue home of the former. Gifts, arranged in two decorated baby buggies, were wheeled into the room by young Harry and Neil Crosby. A corsage of roses was presented to Miss Braun and one of chrysanthemums to her maid-of-honor, Miss Sylvia Voelk. Other guests were Mrs. C. Despot, Mrs. T. Hatcher, Mrs. M. Bing, Mrs. P. Boniface, Misses Sylvia Haighton, Ellen Nonn, Leona McKenzie and Jennie Oshust, Vancouver, B.C.

For Miss Buckmaster

Miss Betty Buckmaster, whose marriage to Mr. Murray Munsell takes place early in November, was honored recently at a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Ulah Jacobson and Miss Marion Williamson at their suite, 1044 McClure Street. Rosebuds en corsage for the bride-elect, and a carnation corsage for her mother, Mrs. E. Buckmaster, were presented on arrival. A decorated umbrella held the pretty gifts. Refreshments were served later by the hostesses. The guests were Mrs. E. Buckmaster, Mrs. J. Syme, Mrs. B. Johnston, Mrs. Seth Halton, Mrs. J. B. Buckmaster and Misses Margaret Young, Shirley Babb, Margaret McKay and Phyllis Driver.

While in Port Alberni on a return visit recently Miss Buckmaster was honored by friends there: Mrs. E. Christianson, Dana Lodge, entertained at a miscellaneous shower and was assisted by Miss Eulie Wight, Miss Val Wallace, Miss Norah White, Miss Helena Hunkin and Miss Florence Christianson as co-hostesses. The many gifts were concealed in a "Little Red School-house." There were 21 guests.

Mrs. H. L. Pearson, Anderson Ave., South, was hostess at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Betty Buckmaster when 15 guests were former associates on the teaching staff of Alberni Elementary School where the bride-to-be had taught for nearly six years. Gifts filled a laundry basket decorated in pink and white.

To Live Here

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hall and family, Susan, Erica and Richard, have come from Montreal to live in Victoria. They are staying at the Olde England Inn, prior to making their home at Plaskett Place.

Tea at Arlow Farm

Mrs. Masey Golden will be hostess at a tea at "Arlow Farm," Royal Oak, the afternoon of Wednesday, Nov. 10, that is open to those interested in work of St. Michael's Church at Royal Oak. All proceeds from the tea will go to augment the church building fund. The tea has been planned so that those attending may see the chrysanthemum display at "Arlow Farm" at its height.

Plan of the Beachcombers' Ball

Mrs. Edward Flanagan, Mrs. John Mercer, Mrs. K. L. Boorman and Mrs. Arthur Burns, left to right, are members of a committee from the Women's Auxiliary to Royal Victoria Yacht Club, who are planning details of the annual Beachcombers' Ball in the clubhouse on Nov. 20. The ball, limited to 100 couples, is a fancy dress affair with prizes for the best couple, best original man, best original lady and best beachcomber man and lady.

Gala Chinese Festival

The Chinese Blossom Festival, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the Veterans' Hospital on December 8, will be an elaborate affair. Plans for the project were discussed at a meeting of the auxiliary, held recently, with Mrs. Leslie Macdonell presiding.

General convener of the festival is Mrs. Wallace Courtney. Mrs. R. H. Peach is in charge of tickets, which may be obtained from members. Representatives from the Chinese community, Mrs. Wah Quan and Mrs. C. P. Yee, were welcomed as guests to the meeting.

Conveners of various departments and stalls are: tea, Mrs. J. Van Norman; entertainment, Mrs. Aubrey Kent; publicity, Mrs. R. D. Harvey; Christmas decorations stall, Mrs. Eric Young; Gifts of All Nations stall, Mrs. John Hope; Chinese articles, Mrs. Wah Quan and Mrs. C. P. Yee; superfluities stall, Mrs. H. Jarvis; Delicatessen stall, Mrs. A. Trautwein; dessert stall, Mrs. C. C. Wyatt; sewing, aprons, etc., Mrs. C. Holmes; knitted garments, Mrs. F. Roberts; children's corner, Mrs. D. McFarlane; lunch-on sets, Mrs. C. B. Mess; contests, food hamper, Mrs. C. Albright; Christmas cake, Mrs. G. Ree; and Mrs. Alex Macfarlane, Chinese dolls.

The decorations for the Sirocco are in charge of Joan Yuen and Peter Wong. Two new members were welcomed, Mrs. John Hope and Miss E. A. Wilson.

Mrs. Elliott Totty reported $20 realized from sale of dog-wagon lapel pins.

It was decided that two poppy wreaths would be purchased, one for the service at the Hospital, the other to be placed on the Cenotaph by Mrs. Macdonell. Members under the convener of Mrs. F. Roberts will assist with the poppy tag day.

Thor Hansen, Next Canadian Club Speaker

Thor C. Hansen, art director of the public relations department, British American Oil Co. Ltd., will give an illustrated address on "Canadian Folk Arts and Crafts" at meeting of the Women's Canadian Club of Victoria, Monday at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium of the Crystal Garden.

Mr. Hansen received his early training in his homeland, Denmark, and since coming to Canada 26 years ago has allied himself strongly with Canadian arts and crafts. An example of his work is seen in the effective interior decorations in the British American Oil Buildings in Toronto and Vancouver. Mr. Hansen has expressed many different aspects of Canadian life through the combined use of native arts and crafts.

British American Canadiana program as arranged by Mr. Hansen recently received an award at the annual conference of American Public Relations Association in New York City.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1954

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—A.M. finds associate bringing some annoying problem right into your home; sidestep this situation again today. Keep objective about money, joint ventures, investments and you win out.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 21)—Despite problems about daily duties, irksome chores you have chance to get away from them and to discuss amicably all problems with charming companion, then all is ironed out to your advantage.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Pleasure conflicts with work already arranged, so don't go off on tangent until after completing your job; if you must be frivolous it will harm less at this time. P.M. enjoy friends, comrades at congenial sport.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—After tense early day, getting together at amusements, entertainment, recreation with newcomer of unusual capabilities opens up new ideas you can use very well in your own affairs.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—You feel so tied down to matters at home you'd better do whatever has to be finished there early and get off to experts who can make practical suggestions for increasing goodwill, charm there. P.M. have fun.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 20)—Money spent on high-minded but not yet well thought-out ventures can be so much cash down the drain; examine more data to get better rounded picture where you are headed, then real facts unfold for your benefit.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23)—Forget all those little slights you'd like to raise Cain about; you have chance to bring more of life's benefits to yourself, so concentrate on these today, tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Secret worry wins you no friends if you keep stewing about that when your attention should be directed into other channels; attend to your obligations despite outside pressures. Have beauty treatments, haircuts, etc. Zip up your charm.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Steer clear of friends who want to gossip; complain just to hear sound of their own voices; you need to use this day to investigate whatever you do not understand and get future plans quietly arranged.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)—Have you let good friends, long-time supporters know just what you want from your association with them? Otherwise how can they help you secure your real wishes? Be direct and outspoken; help them in turn, too.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Sticking close to authority, boss, mate, personality who can give you support you need the most lets some new, wishy-washy idea drop away from you, then you really get things worth while accomplished.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Avoid following some hunch that you are not sure is right; you have available in your newspaper, other information you need; use proven outlets to secure; then work hard to complete your job now.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN FRIDAY...

Friday's child is one of those youngsters who seems to start out life under a handicap of all kinds of dull and delaying conditions. However, as time passes a very unusual talent commences to manifest itself that should be encouraged by any courses or training that can make your offspring more acquainted with the techniques of the new age type of work he or she will want to do. Make sure your child is interested solely in himself, or herself. Very progressive youngster, full of talent.

Merchants Appeal To Local Teachers

School Board has no control over the teacher-sponsored BCTF Co-operative Association, Austin Curtis, Victoria school trustee, told his fellow-directors of Victoria Chamber of Commerce Wednesday afternoon.

The Teachers' Federation co-op offers to teacher-shareholders a wide variety of consumer goods at prices below normal retail levels. First chamber protest was registered Monday at a meeting of retail merchants' group. They referred the question to chamber directors for action.

A resolution outlining the chamber's attitude was authorized by the directors Wednesday for presentation to the annual meeting of Vancouver Island teachers, Friday. It reads: "Whereas the directors of the Chamber of Commerce deplore the practice of mass co-operative buying and desire to point out to the members of the Greater Victoria Teachers' Association that local retailers have established their businesses to give local residents full-time and satisfactory service, and further:

"That the said retailers are all taxpayers in local municipalities and in some cases extremely heavy taxpayers; "Therefore be it resolved that this board of directors requests the teachers in the Greater Victoria area to give their strongest possible support to local businesses, to the material advantage of all concerned."

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

by Byrnie Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, November 4th—It's always delightful fun when old friends get together over a home-cooked meal. Just the other evening I was complimenting my hostess on her truly delicious potato soup. "Why, I got the idea right out of your own column, Byrnie!" she said. "I used an old favorite of yours—FRENCH'S INSTANT POTATO—as the base for this potato soup." It made such a great hit that I'm giving you the recipe. I know you'll like it. . . . POTATO SOUP.

3 cups French's Mashed Potato
2 slices onion
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 quart milk
2 teaspoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
salt and pepper
1 teaspoon Dry Mustard

Prepare mashed potato, using French's Instant Potato, as directed on package. Scald milk with onion. Remove onion. Add milk slowly to potatoes. Melt butter, add flour and mustard and slowly pour hot milk over the bubbling mixture. Boil one minute, stirring constantly. Add parsley, salt and pepper.

There are dozens of other wonderful ways of serving French's Instant Potato. It's easy to prepare . . . economical . . . nutritious . . . and good! Get some today!

You'll Never Find the Sanders' household without a stock of delicious "74" SHERRY on hand, and whenever we serve it people ask where on earth we bought such an excellent sherry! This remarkable wine is a Canadian sherry made by the Bright's people . . . and the price is so reasonable! We serve it in dozens of different ways — oh, as an appetizer, with hors d'oeuvres — we just perk a bottle on the table whenever guests drop in. If you like a heavier, sweeter wine — you'll be delighted with Bright's companion wine — "74" Port. Now there's a rich, full-bodied port that does wonderful things to a simple snack of cheese and crackers. Try either "74" wine — and you'll second every lyrical word of mine!

What A Wonderful Opportunity . . . to win a fabulously lovely fur . . . is given you in the BLUE BONNET SUE contest! This thrilling contest has many fine prizes at prices . . . and your chance to win is as good as anyone else's! Think of possessing a superbly styled fur coat worth $1,200 in your choice of fine furs! Or a $500 fur jacket . . . or a $300 cape-stole or stole . . . or a glamorous California Sable scarf. Fur coats are superbly styled by Norman Hartnell, the famous English designer, and beautifully tailored to your measurements by a top Canadian furrier. To enter is easy. Just complete the sentence "I like Blue Bonnet Margarine best because . . ." in 25 words or less! Mail with 2 end-flaps, each with Good Housekeeping Seal, (or facsimiles), from any Blue Bonnet Margarine packages and your name and address to Blue Bonnet Sue, Box 2128, Toronto, Ont. Send as many entries as you like — as soon as you can!

Everal Vigilance, m'lase, is what keeps those nasty head colds away from your family! But when any of you are bothered with the symptoms, do remember that you can get help with MENTHOLATUM. This reliable product, with its fast-acting ingredients in a bland, soothing base will relieve irritated membranes, and ease the stuffiness in your nostrils and head. You'll find your head cold discomforts relieved when you use Mentholum. Just apply a little inside each nostril and then sniff well back. Write for a FREE GENEROUS SAMPLE to Confidentially Yours, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal.

One Of The Nicest Moments In The Day, seems to me, is when the family is finally away to school or business . . . and you can turn back to a leisurely cup of coffee before you start the dishes. Have a fresh, hot, fragrant cup of INSTANT CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE . . . just the way you want it — medium, mild, or strong. No fuss or bother — just add boiling water and the granules will melt like magic into full-bodied coffee that's a joy to serve! Best of it is, too — you save up to 40c a pound over regular coffee! Everywhere I go I find my friends serving Instant Chase & Sanborn Coffee — for breakfast — for their friends — for a quick pick-me-up.

Skin Dryness Is A Robber! It robs you of that fresh, young look . . . in much the same way a smooth plum, when it's dried out, becomes a wrinkled prune! The wonder-working WOODBURY DRY SKIN CREAM will keep away the threat of dry skin — for it is lanolin-rich — and contains a remarkable new penetrating agent, too. This amazing penetrating ingredient carries the lanolin and other lubricating oils and emollients in the cream deeper into pores opening than was ever possible before. The regular use of Woodbury Dry Skin Cream will help to overcome the tiny dry skin lines — will bring a younger look to your skin. 25c, 45c, 75c and $1.15 at stores everywhere.

Only Two Dollars And Fifty Cents down payment for a $50 bond . . . only $5 down payment for a $100 bond! Yes, that's all you need to start with when you buy a Canada Savings Bond at the BANK OF MONTREAL. The remainder you pay in eleven monthly instalments. It's a wonderful savings plan, absolutely safe, and the bonds carry a good rate of interest too — 3 1/2%. Why not drop in today and buy your bond at your nearest B of M branch? It won't cost you more than an evening at the theatre, and by next October you'll have a government-guaranteed "nest-egg" with which to meet unexpected opportunities or emergencies.

Are You A "Working Gal"? If so . . . it's more important than ever that you know about the fine qualities of FRESH CREAM DEODORANT . . . because in the overheated offices of today, there's a very real danger of giving offense with underarm odor . . . without any realization of it yourself! New Fresh Cream Deodorant is made with an exclusive "Moisture-Shield" formula, which keeps the underarms so dry that there's no possibility of odor . . . so dry there's no stain on clothing! Use Fresh Cream Deodorant every day — just a touch of its gentle cream base will bring you that confidence in perfect good grooming every career woman must have!

2 OIL COMPANIES BOOST PREMIUM GAS HALF CENT

A half-cent rise in gasoline prices of two major oil companies was reflected here Monday and today.

McColl-Fontenac was to increase premium gasoline retail prices by a half cent today, bringing the rate to 43.3 cents a gallon. Monday, Imperial Oil stations brought their prices to 43.4 cents a gallon.

Imperial explained that the introduction of a new anti-freeze ingredient which prevents stalling at idling speeds was responsible for the rise.

Other firms are remaining steady with prices ranging from 42.6 to 43.5 on premium grades.

Shell Oil has been retailing gasoline at 43.5 since earlier this year, and Standard stations anticipate no change in the immediate future on their 42.6 cents premium price which dropped a half cent about two weeks ago.

Standard grades of gasoline at all stations retail for from 39.8 to about 41 cents a gallon, depending on the brand.

33 Bus Passengers Escape Plunge Into Icy River

MONTREAL (BUP)—The 33 passengers of a bus which plunged into the icy North River near Ste. Agathe Wednesday were all safely home or homeward bound today after a narrow escape.

The Abitibi Coach Line bus, driven by Ernest Beloin, skidded off an icy road, crashed through a guard rail and rolled down a 20-foot bank into eight feet of water.

The bus protruded only a foot above the water level. Passengers struggled through neck-deep water to the driver's window and the emergency door opened by one of the occupants.

Ten passengers had to be treated in hospital for cuts and bruises.

None of the luggage had been recovered Wednesday night. Most of the 25 passengers who arrived in Montreal wore borrowed clothes supplied by Ste. Agathe residents.

The Red Cross praised the generosity of residents who sheltered and fed passengers until another bus arrived.

Legless Murderer Sentenced to Hang

LINCOLN, England (Reuters)—A 28-year-old legless man, John Docherty, was sentenced to be hanged here Wednesday for murdering Miss Sybil How, 24, after she had broken off her engagement.

Docherty who was carried into the dock by prison officers stabbed the girl when she gave him back his engagement ring. He then threw himself under a train.

He was found still conscious on the track with his legs severed.

Christmas Mail Deadline Nears For Old Country Destinations

If your Christmas list includes friends and relatives in the United Kingdom or continental Europe, you should shop soon.

This advice comes from Victoria's postmaster, R. F. Reid, who points out that last-minute postings, if general, might make it impossible for the post office to find sufficient accommodation on the last ships leaving in time to ensure Christmas delivery.

Deadline dates for overseas Christmas mails are: United Kingdom, letters (ordinary mail) December 3 (air) December 15; parcel post (ordinary) November 23 (air) December 13. Europe, letters (ordinary) November 23 (air) December 13; parcel post (ordinary) November 19 (air) December 11.

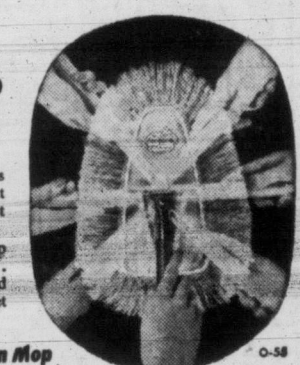

Gift parcels must be clearly marked as such. Articles enclosed in parcels to the United Kingdom are subject to British customs regulations and purchased in parcels to the United States tax.

Bootlegged Wolves Profitable No More

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan government has pulled the business props from under some of the Canadian north's sharpest traders — the wolf-runners.

Imaginative Indians of the Northwest Territories who bootlegged dead wolves across the Saskatchewan border to collect bounties are going to have to take their business elsewhere, effective December 1.

That's the date Saskatchewan stops paying lucrative bounties, by authority of a cabinet order-in-council which states the $10 paid for each skin or carcass is "an ineffectual" method of wolf control.

MANY KILLED OFF

A big reason for the order is the province's extensive predator control program which killed off nearly 1,000 timber wolves last year, largely through use of poison baits.

But game branch officials admit there is a second reason — the wolf-runners.

No bounty now is paid in the Northwest Territories. Wolf-slay Indians who killed wolves there brought them across the border and collected the Saskatchewan bounty without detection.

Wolf-running reached a peak in 1947 when the bounty was increased to a high of $25. Dead animals and skins crossed Saskatchewan borders not only from the territories but also from Alberta and Manitoba.

WOLF-RUNNING REACHED A PEAK IN 1947 WHEN THE BOUNTY WAS INCREASED TO A HIGH OF $25. DEAD ANIMALS AND SKINS CROSSED SASKATCHEWAN BORDERS NOT ONLY FROM THE TERRITORIES BUT ALSO FROM ALBERTA AND MANITOBA.

Oil Flames 300 Ft. High Defy Crews

MA-MEO BEACH, Alta. (CP)—Crews fighting an oil well fire near here were held up Wednesday when two hooks used to clear debris from the well head snapped off and were lost in flames.

The well head must be cleared before experts decide on a method of dousing the blaze. Among objects hauled out Wednesday were a shale shaker, a tool house, engine and compound skids and a truck which had been standing 30 feet from the well since it blew wild, October 26.

The 300-foot flames still are not roaring straight up. It was believed they were being obstructed by a beam over the hole. It may be another two days before it is clear.

Meanwhile, a relief well, through which water may be pumped to flood off-escaping gas from the wild well, Wednesday night was 2,300 feet towards its depth of about 7,000 feet.

Nitroglycerine may be used to quell the fire by lifting the fire off the well head and choking it through lack of oxygen.

The well, in the rich Bonnie Glen field, is burning off natural gas at an estimated 10,000,000 cubic feet a day. One man was killed and three injured when it blew.

CHANGE ROUTES

The trade routes may be changed after December 1. Indians slipping their prizes from Saskatchewan and the Northwest Territories into Manitoba and Alberta, which have bounties of $10 and $15.

Last year Saskatchewan paid out $6,000 in wolf bounties. Seven years ago the cost was $25,000 and there was no significant drop in wolf population or complaints on damage.

Experience with coyote control also was a factor in the move. Until 1949, a $5 bounty was paid for them, costing nearly $100,000 in its final year of operation.

However, coyotes remained a menace to cattle, sheep-raisers and game officials. A co-operative control program with rural municipalities has reduced coyotes to a point where they present no problem in most areas.

IRON RATIONS GO SOFT

Army's Hardtack Replaced But Move Meets Dissent

OTTAWA (CP)—A difference of opinion has cropped up between the Defense Research Board and the army. The subject: Hardtack.

A statement issued by the board Wednesday said it looks as if hardtack is on its way out of the armed forces.

The board announced that food technologist Joseph H. Hulise and baker Joseph Galbraith of the food research group of the board's medical laboratories at Downsview, Ont., have created a prepared mix which, combined with water and baked in an oven, produces high quality bread in just under two hours.

Hardtack included in emergency rations, usually when an infantry unit is going in on attack and may not be able to get a hot meal for some time.

"I can't see us stopping in the middle of an attack to build an oven and watch the bread rise for two hours," said an infantry officer who has eaten a lot of hardtack in his day.

However, the board added hastily, the scientists devised their new bread process primarily for crews of small warships and isolated units of Canada's three services.

Hulise spent nearly three weeks at sea in a variety of naval vessels investigating the problems of storing bread and keeping it fresh in confined spaces. He decided that only a prepared, easy-to-bake mix was the answer.

HARRIMAN WIN OVERPLAYED, N.Y. TIMES CALLS PAPER BACK

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times Wednesday called back about 80,000 copies of its first edition containing early reports of election results, circulation director Nathan Goldstein said.

City editor Frank Adams said a reason for the decision was that "we felt we had gone a little too far in making a flat statement" about Averell Harriman's victory in the race for governor of New York.

Regina, Saskatoon Vote on Fluorides

Plebiscites Show Division; Three Cities Choose New Mayors

REGINA (CP)—Three of Saskatchewan's eight cities have new mayors today but results of fluoridation plebiscites in Regina and Saskatoon were not as final as the mayoralty returns.

Fluoridation of water supplies was a major issue in the province's two largest cities. Unofficial returns in Saskatoon gave fluoridation a thin margin of affirmative votes but a recount was likely. Incomplete returns showed Regina voters were not in favor of the idea.

Prince Albert's first mayoralty contest in six years saw Ald. D. G. Stewart defeat J. M. Cuelenaere who was seeking his 10th term as chief magistrate. Swift Current voters chose former finance chairman Jack McIntosh Jr. over J. E. Friesen who had been mayor for two consecutive terms.

The other new face in Yorkton where the largest vote ever recorded elected Dr. M. C. Novak over Lawrence Ball.

Mayor Leslie H. Hammond was re-elected to a second term in Regina. Saskatoon Mayor John McSkill was also re-elected for a second term.

Former newspaper man Louis H. Lewry made a successful bid for his sixth consecutive term as the mayor of Moose Jaw. The province's two other cities, Weyburn and North Battleford, had their mayors returned by acclamation on nomination day.

Other mayoralty races reported:

L. H. Bradley elected mayor of Mossomin, defeating J. Gordon Wright, who had held the office for 18 years.

A. N. Forcier re-elected mayor of Gravelbourg.

Harry Nicholson re-elected to 16th term as mayor of Estevan.

Two FOR THE Show

By PHIL LEE

AA—Great Class BB—Worthwhile C—For a Glimpse D—To Put In Time

(BB) "DRAGNET" (Capitol)—Television's crack cops-and-robbers thriller, "Dragnet," comes from the small screen of the family TV set to the large screen of the theatre, and whereas Jack Webb and Ben Alexander carry out their assignments nicely, something is lost in the transplanting.

It may be that the half-hour show is exactly right for this type of plot, but after an hour-and-a-half of deliberately played-down acting and dead-toned voices, a certain aura of tedium invades the whole. And, unless you are interested in detailed detail of the ways and means, and the latest gadgets of criminal investigation, the plot commences to drag.

THE PLOT, IN BRIEF: Investigating the shotgun murder of ex-convict Miller (Dub Taylor), Sergeant Joe Friday (Webb) and Officer Frank Smith (Alexander) round up the victim's associates for questioning. Gambler Max Troy (Stacy Harris), stubborn and evasive, reveals few leads for Joe to follow. An eyewitness identifies Chester Davitt (Willard Sage) from his rogue's gallery photograph as having been at the scene of the killing. After this the heat is on. Davitt is picked up and it is up to Friday and company to find enough evidence to hold him for murder.

There are some nice "bits" in "Dragnet." One concerns the intoxicated gangster's moll with one leg; another shows Friday trying to convince the eye-witness to appear for the state.

THROUGHOUT, THE PHOTOGRAPHY is excellent, as is the direction. But it all harks back to the same fundamental weakness—the story. For no matter how good the acting and other component parts of a play may be, if the plot is weak, so the whole must fall. The trouble with Warner's "Dragnet" is that it starts with a bang and ends with a pout.

School TV Under Way

TORONTO (CP)—A big experiment in classroom television programs has started in Canada to examine the usefulness of television as a teaching aid.

Fourteen B.C. schools are among those in Canada taking part in the CBC's school television experiment. Programming will begin on CBUT next Tuesday because eastern programs must be transported to Vancouver, causing a delay in telecasting.

(All 14 schools, both elementary and junior high levels, are situated on the Lower Mainland in areas considered "good" for TV reception. No Victoria schools will be taking part.)

The telecasts prepared by the CBC and the national advisory council on school broadcasting are aimed at two separate groups—pupils of grades five and six, and of grades seven and eight.

The younger pupils see the programs each Tuesday afternoon in school hours; the older groups on Wednesday afternoons. All the programs are 15 or 20 minutes in length.

SELECTED SUBJECTS For the younger group, the series of four programs includes social studies, traffic safety, art and literature.

The series for grades seven and eight started with a sight-seeing tour of the Toronto house of William Lyon Mackenzie, and a visit to the historic site of Montgomery's tavern where the rebels of 1837 began their march on Toronto.

Later programs in the Wednesday series include a pictorial

Roadside Fruit Stands Criticized

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—Southern District Council of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association Wednesday criticized packinghouses and roadside stands for selling fruit not measuring up to standards.

Growers contend poor quality fruit which should be dumped is sold to the detriment of the industry. They also charged canneries with offering to buy split stone peaches direct from orchardists.

TRAFFIC SIGNS NEEDED

60,000 N. Atlantic Flights This Year

MONTREAL (CP)—Lindbergh had the sky to himself over the North Atlantic in 1927, but things have changed.

The International Civil Aviation Organization estimated Wednesday that more than 60,000 flights will be made over the North Atlantic this year. That figure is expected to be increased by 50 per cent in the next five years.

The situation has become such that additional traffic safety devices are considered necessary.

SAFETY SUGGESTIONS

In a prepared statement ICAO listed some of the safety recommendations made by its third North Atlantic regional air navigation meeting recently.

The meeting found that present long-range aids allow safe navigation but do not permit extremely accurate position fixes at all times. As a result a wide separation between aircraft in flight at the same altitude level has been required.

The meeting recommended that additional radio beacons be installed in Iceland, southern Greenland, the Azores, eastern Newfoundland, Labrador and at Nantucket Island and Atlantic City in the United States.

These stations would be in addition to those already in Europe.

Until the new facilities are provided, the meeting recommended, in general, a minimum separation of 30 minutes for two aircraft on the same or on converging tracks and a minimum lateral separation of 120 nautical miles between aircraft on parallel tracks.

Third Avenger Plane May Come to Victoria

RCN's two Canadian-adapted Avenger aircraft, based at Patricia Bay airport, may be joined by a third plane of the same type in the future.

The Avengers have been used for testing torpedoes. Meanwhile, Ottawa has officially designated them "Squadron VU-33" with Lieut.-Cmdr D. J. Fisher, only RCN pilot stationed on this coast, as commanding officer. The navy says it does not intend to train pilots here.

Mixed Babies—Before Switch

Mother instinct fought with science when the two babies above got switched in the maternity hospital where they were born and went to wrong mothers. Error was discovered after the two mothers, Mrs. Vera Bowers, 22, left, and Mrs. Sheila Read, 24, had been nursing the infants for five weeks. At first they resisted efforts by their husbands and doctors who had conducted blood tests to show which baby had which parents. Finally they agreed to change offspring when the two harassed fathers agreed to find adjoining apartments so the two mothers could check on the progress of the tots and that their womanly intuition was wrong. Both families live in the East End of London and both babies are blue-eyed and dark-haired. (Mirrorpic Photo.)

IOF Cadets of RCA Make Good Progress

By ROY "CAP" THORSEN
Showing a definite improvement since organization last year, 2483 IOF Cadet Corps, RCA, is moving along in high gear in its 1953-54 training program.

The budding soldiers train every Friday evening at Work Point Barracks. They are now engaged in four courses: in addition to periodic parades to keep up their parade-square smartness.

A motor mechanics course is in progress in the drill hall at the end of Macaulay Street. Instructors are NCOs of 119 MAA Battery, RCA, the regular army unit that has taken the lead under their wing.

Another course on motors is being given at Work Point under corps' instructors. A small old-type stationary engine is being used for demonstration.

PRECISION DRILL

In a third course boys are being extensively schooled in drill with the object of forming precision drill squads and color parties.

Lieut. Cyre Burley, CO of the corps, reports a fourth course deals with electronics and signals.

Last week the boys began shooting of the rifle range after classroom instruction on safety precautions and the handling of firearms.

The cadets are brushing up on marksmanship for their second annual turkey shoot. Tickets for this event will be available Nov. 13. Last year in the pre-Christmas season the boys shot for and gave away over 500 pounds of grade A turkeys on a target system suggested by this writer.

Battery parades now have the colorful addition of a senior corps' brass band.

The social side program for the cadets includes a Nov. 10 dance to be held at Lieut. Burley's home at 1732 Lee. All cadets are invited but those attending must be in uniform.

Democrats Gain Senate Control

Neuberger's Upset Victory
In Oregon Decides Battle

WASHINGTON (CP).—A close victory in Oregon and a hairline defeat in New Jersey, both decided more than 24 hours after the polls closed, gave the Democrats a one-vote edge in the Senate as well as control of the House of Representatives as a result of Tuesday's off-year elections.

Recounts could upset both critical Senate races, adding an additional vote to the bare Democratic majority or swinging control back to the Republicans, who have ruled both Houses for the last two years.

There was some question whether the Democrats would assert their right to control the Senate because of the narrow margin.

Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona said Wednesday night his Democratic colleagues will confer to consider the advisability of leaving it in Republican hands to avoid the possibility of mid-session deaths causing a turnover.

Morse Will Support Democrats

As matters stand today, the Democrats hold 48 seats in the 96-member chamber and have the promised support of Oregon Independent Wayne Morse in naming the committee chairman who will control Senate proceedings. The Republicans have 47 senators.

In the House, the Democrats have a comfortable 29-vote edge, having elected 232 members to the Republicans' 203.

President Eisenhower, who had spent the last week before election day asking the voters to give him a friendly Republican Congress, took the defeat philosophically, promising to work with the Democrats in putting across his legislative proposals.

The last two Senate races in New Jersey and Oregon hung in the balance to the end with neither trailing candidate admitting defeat.

In New Jersey, Republican Clifford Case had a bare 200-vote margin when the last precinct was reported and supporters of Democrat Charles Howell called for a recount. This produced further gains for Case, whose revised lead grew to more than 2,000 votes. Howell had led throughout the early returns.

First Victory in 40 Years

In Oregon, where no Democratic senator had been elected for the last 40 years, Richard Neuberger trailed Republican Senator Guy Gordon until Wednesday night when a flood of returns from Portland, which normally favors the Democrats, pushed him in front.

By the time Neuberger's lead had become decisive early today, Gordon had retired and there was no official concession from the Republican camp.

The question of Senate control raised by Hayden arises from the procedure of filling vacancies. When a senator dies, his successor is appointed by the governor of his home state, who customarily appoints a man of his own party. In a number of states this could change the political complexion of the chamber.

Second Ike-Stevenson Fight?

WASHINGTON (AP).—The outcome of Tuesday's stubbornly-contested elections served to whet interest today in a possible rematch between Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson in the 1956 presidential race.

The prospect was emphasized by the fact that the mid-term battle catapulted only a bare handful of new personalities into the spotlight as potential entries in the '56 sweepstakes.

As returns rolled in, President Eisenhower told his press conference that so far as he could see, the elections would have no effect one way or another on whether he will seek a second term in 1956.

All the President would say was that there is plenty of time for a decision. At Libertyville, Ill., Stevenson hailed the outcome as "a portent of things to come," an obvious allusion to 1956, but with a twinkle he added quickly that it had "nothing whatever to do with whether I'll run again for the presidency."

ALBANY, N.Y. (UP).—Democrat Averell Harriman bolstered his hold on the New York governorship today as election officials began canvassing ballot cast in Tuesday's election.

Reports from districts starting a canvass showed Harriman held a slim margin of 10,101 votes over Republican Sen. Irving M. Ives. Earlier, his lead was down to about 8,000.

Semenick Shooting Was Second Attempt

Police Clamp Secrecy Blackout on Probe Of Affair; Two Suspects Face Charges

VANCOUVER (CP).—Charges of attempted murder were expected to be laid today against two suspects in the bizarre park drive shooting of William Semenick, middle-aged former convict.

It was the second attempt on Semenick's life. The first came, police said, in 1950 shortly before he was sentenced to four years in the B.C. penitentiary for possessing drugs.

At that time two shots were fired at him through the window of a rented house.

Police clamped a tight blackout on their investigations of the case, linked with the illicit narcotics trade and the recent gangland-style slaying of waiter Danny Brent.

Semenick and Brent are said to have been close friends.

One of the suspects was plucked from neck-deep water behind a launch at a harbor yacht club near the park soon after the shooting.

DR. SAM—MURDERER, OR DEVOTED HUSBAND

Jury Hears Prosecution Charge Sheppard Beat Wife to Death

CLEVELAND, O. (UP).—Dr. Sam H. Sheppard sat with eyes closed and face deathly pale today as the state's attorney described how his wife was beaten to death and pointed to him as the murderer.

The 30-year-old brain surgeon's mouth trembled and he wiped a hand across his closed eyelids as Assistant Prosecutor John J. Mahon calmly recited to a jury of seven men and five women the death scene in the chill, windy pre-dawn hours of last July 4.

The state was making its opening statement in its effort to send "Dr. Sam" to the electric chair. It accuses him of the deliberate and premeditated slaying of his pretty wife, Marilyn, 31, after an argument about his affairs with "other women."

The defense countered that Sheppard had been a good husband who loved his wife. Defense Counsel Fred W. Garmon said in his opening statement the defense will prove "that the last four months of the married life of Marilyn Sheppard and Dr. Sheppard were the happiest."

Garmon said the doctor had entered a contract to buy his home and had placed it in his wife's name. He said Sheppard took out $20,000 in life insurance on himself and made his wife and young son beneficiaries.

"They talk about the illicit affairs Sam is supposed to have had," Garmon said. "When he received his salary checks, he endorsed them, turned them over to Marilyn and she went to the bank, took out what was needed to operate the home, and put the balance in Sam's account."

"Does that add up to murder?"

25 BLOWS
Mahon, a 63-year-old widower who has a record of 100 murder convictions in 22 years as a prosecutor, leaned back, half sitting, as he spoke softly to the jury.

"Her head had been brutally beaten," he said in describing what police found in Marilyn's upstairs bedroom of the Sheppard Bay Village home.

Sheppard, his chin jutting, flicked his eyes at the jury. Then he closed them and paled.

"The evidence will show there were about 25 blows on the body, almost all on the head," Mahon said. "They were delivered with such violence that the skull was all crushed and fractured. The hands were marked—one nail nearly torn out."

"There were 15 blows alone above the eyes. They were delivered with such force that they fractured the skull; the nose was broken and there were injuries about the eyes."

Mahon spoke matter-of-factly for one hour and five minutes. He raised his voice only once. That was when he told the jury that Sheppard and his wife had quarreled over his "activities with other women."

Firmly emphasizing each word, the silver-haired prosecutor told how Sheppard last

French Leaders Spurn Offer To Visit Russia

Move Seen Directed At Mendes-France

By KENNETH MILLER

PARIS (UP).—Authoritative French sources disclosed today a new Russian attempt to upset efforts of Premier Pierre Mendes-France to win speedy parliamentary ratification of the Paris treaties on German rearmament.

The Soviets were disclosed to have invited the speakers of both the National Assembly and the French Senate to lead a parliamentary delegation on a visit to Russia "in the interests of improving east-west relations."

The invitation was viewed here as a Kremlin attempt to influence French deputies who are scheduled to pass upon the German rearmament plans next month.

The Soviet manoeuvre was coldly received. Both assembly speaker Andre Le Troquer and Senate President Gaston Monnerville informed the Soviet ambassador an immediate visit to Russia would be "most inopportune."

But the assembly called upon Jules Moch, a bitter enemy of German rearmament, to prepare for it a detailed report on the new German rearmament scheme.

The decision, by a sweeping 21 to 9 vote of the assembly's foreign affairs commission, was a blow to Premier, Mendes-France's drive for speedy ratification of the Paris agreements which would restore German sovereignty and rearm 500,000 Germans in a new western European union.

Moch, now in the United States with the French United Nations delegation, was instrumental in helping defeat the earlier European army plan for German rearmament. A sharply adverse report which he drafted on that scheme was credited with influencing many border-line deputies to vote against the European army.

LIVING COSTS UNCHANGED DURING SEPT.

OTTAWA (BUP).—The consumer price index—the government's barometer of living costs in Canada's cities—remained unchanged during September, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The index stood at 116.8 on Oct. 1, the same figure recorded at Sept. 1. The bureau reported a whole variety of changes in various items that balanced each other out in most cases.

4 Albertans Killed in B.C. Car Crash

MICHEL, B.C. (CP).—Four persons, all from Coleman, Alta., were killed near here Wednesday night when their automobile was jammed beneath the trailer of a transport truck on a frost-coated highway.

RCMP identified the dead as: Richard Milo; his wife, Rose; their seven-year-old son, Michael, and Dominic Mareno.

The car went into a spin after founding a curve and slid into the truck driven by Joseph McKervy of Calgary. McKervy was uninjured.

Three of the victims died instantly and the fourth a short time later. An inquest will be held.

Police said the mishap occurred about 8:30 p.m. three miles east of here.

Churchill, St. Laurent Announce London Parley

LONDON (Reuters).—Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill said today that the Commonwealth prime ministers will discuss "many things of great importance in the international world" at a conference in London, January 31.

OTTAWA (CP).—A Commonwealth conference of prime ministers will be held in London, January 31, Prime Minister St. Laurent said today.

Mr. St. Laurent quoted an announcement by Prime Minister Churchill in the British House of Commons today.

Mr. St. Laurent said the date for the opening of the meeting was selected after consideration of what might suit the convenience of the majority of Commonwealth prime ministers.

'Events of Great Importance'

The statement quoted the following paragraphs from Sir Winston's announcement:

"I have recently been in communication with the prime ministers of the other members of the Commonwealth about the holding of a further meeting between us."

"Many events of great importance in the international field have taken place since our last meeting at the time of the Coronation."

"These will be among the principal subjects for our consideration when, as we have agreed, a meeting of Commonwealth prime ministers is held in London, opening Jan. 31."

Among other topics at the conference will be the recent Paris agreements bringing Western Germany into the Western European Defense Union.

Other possible matters to be discussed include the situation in Indo-China and Korea and other Far East subjects.

Queen Mother For Governor Suggestion Draws Support

LONDON (CP).—The Daily Mail suggests that the Queen Mother become governor-general of Canada.

The Conservative newspaper, elaborating on an editorial Wednesday, in Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, asks: "What might she not accomplish in that great and rapidly developing land if she were to take up a more permanent residence there—perhaps as governor-general?"

The Express suggested she be appointed governor-general of one of the Commonwealth countries.

Adds the Mail: "Any such appointment would depend on her own wishes, but the renewed emphasis which the American visit has placed on her exceptional talents makes us wonder if some such important task does not lie ahead."

"There can be no doubt that her presence in Canada would promote a livelier association in every way between our two countries."

Baby Had to Wait

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP).—A woman lawyer delayed the stork just long enough here Wednesday to learn of her election to the California legislature. Mrs. Wanda Sankary, 34, Democrat, defeated Chester Schneider, San Diego councilman, 28,027 to 27,521, and when the complete returns were in went to the hospital to have her baby.

'APE MEN' ABDUCT TWO TRIBESMEN, EAT THEM

SINGAPORE (Reuters).—A Semai headman has reported that last month a band of hairy "ape men" raided a Malayan village, carried off two tribesmen and ate them.

This is the story brought back here by a government observer, as told to him by the headman of a village near the Slim River in north Malaya:

The almost-naked creatures, said to be half-human, with long fangs and matted hair, darted out of jungle hills and carried two screaming tribesmen away.

The aborigines, though rigid with fear, tracked the ape men 26 miles back into the steamy hills. Then they came upon the half-eaten body of one of the victims. There were deep fang marks all over his body, and blood had congealed over the wounds.

Fashion Model Writes New Column for Times

Nona Damaske, one of the city's leading mannequins, will become fashion adviser for Victoria Times readers.

NONA DAMASKE... in step with style

Under the heading "In Step With Style," on the women's pages of this newspaper, Nona will bring to feminine readers not only the newest ideas in high fashion clothes but many hints on ways to better dressing on moderate budgets. She will also attempt to answer questions sent to her through this newspaper, by women in search of short cut to a more stylish silhouette.

"The Times' new fashion columnist is well known in Victoria, through her work as a model. She has appeared in many outstanding fashion shows in recent years in this city, has organized showings of new trends in clothes for various organizations and has acted as commentator for some of the showings. She is in demand as a guest speaker at women's club meetings where her subject is always some phase of the fashion picture for every hour of the day or night."

"Times' readers will now share with Nona Damaske the first-hand knowledge she gains through contacts with representatives of leading couturier houses in Canada, the United States and Europe."

LIVING COSTS
UNCHANGED
DURING SEPT.

OTTAWA (BUP)—The consumer price index—the government's barometer of living costs in Canada's cities—remained unchanged during September, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The index stood at 116.8 on Oct. 1, the same figure recorded at Sept. 1. The bureau reported a whole variety of changes in various items that balanced each other out in most cases.

'Token Payment'
By Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor Fred Hume said today the city of Vancouver could offer "only a small token payment" to help the provincial government build the new Marpole bridge.

Commenting on an announcement Wednesday by Premier Bennett that tenders for the bridge will be called immediately, the mayor said the city had approved such an offer, totalling $200,000, last year and he felt the city could go no farther. Cost of the span is estimated at $8,000,000.

Hume Clears Police

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Mayor Fred Hume today cleared the Vancouver Police Department of charges the department had suppressed investigation of a West Coast lottery racket. Hume said in a statement that an investigation by the police commission showed "no evidence" of suppression.

Truck Driver Dies

NEW WESTMINSTER (BUP)—Truck driver Montague Sibley of Vancouver, died in the Royal Columbian Hospital today from injuries received in a road crash Wednesday night.

Shawnigan'll seem a lot quieter with jus' th' water line t' worry about.

PGE's slogan now is "Peace River or Bust" an' it'd be both.

Bet a lot o' folks in Oregon an' New Jersey who said it didn't matter whether y' vote or not, are changin' their minds now.

"Love Me, Love 'Mums"

Tommy Spratt, 8, is in love with 'mums these days. Not just because he likes flowers. Chief reason is Mount Tolmie Scouts and Cubs (he's in "C" Cub Pack) will share proceeds of Victoria and District Chrysanthemum Society's show of late-flowering 'mums in Shelbourne Street Scout Hall, from 1 until 9 p.m., Friday, and all day Saturday. Conference of PM's
Called for Jan. 31Churchill, St. Laurent Announce Parley
In London; Discuss Important Events

LONDON (Reuters)—Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill said today that the Commonwealth prime ministers will discuss "many things of great importance in the international world" at a conference in London, January 31.

OTTAWA (CP)—A Commonwealth conference of prime ministers will be held in London, January 31, Prime Minister St. Laurent said today.

Mr. St. Laurent quoted an announcement by Prime Minister Churchill in the British House of Commons today.

Mr. St. Laurent said the date for the opening of the meeting was selected after consideration of what might suit the convenience of the majority of Commonwealth prime ministers.

He said he hopes that the work of the forthcoming session of the Canadian Parliament would be well under way by the time he leaves for London.

The statement quoted the following paragraphs from Sir Winston's announcement:

"I have recently been in communication with the prime ministers of the other members of the Commonwealth about the holding of a further meeting between us.

"Many events of great importance in the international field have taken place since our last meeting at the time of the Coronation.

"These will be among the principal subjects for our consideration when, as we have agreed, a meeting of Common-

Police Seek
Two AddictsPair Questioned in Stanley Park
May Be Key to Assassination Try

VANCOUVER (CP)—A city-wide search was started today for two narcotic addicts wanted for questioning in the bizarre park drive shooting of former convict William Semenic.

The two men were released "by mistake" early Wednesday by police officers who stopped them for questioning in Stanley Park shortly after the attempted murder.

The men were not believed to be suspects in the shooting, but police think they may have some information in connection with the case.

It was reported their presence in the park indicated there may have been a narcotics deal being transacted.

Meanwhile, city prosecutor Stewart McMoran said charges—if any—would not be laid today against two suspects picked up Wednesday.

Police clamped a tight black-out on their investigations of the case, linked with the illicit narcotics trade and the recent gangland-style slaying of waiter Danny Brent.

Semenick and Brent are said to have been close friends. One of the suspects was plucked from neck-deep water behind a launch at a harbor yacht club near the park soon after the shooting.

The other was picked up later Wednesday near the hospital where Semenic was reported in "fair" condition with a bullet wound in the groin.

Semenick was held under close police guard at the hospital and there were unconfirmed reports that he had been placed in hiding for his own safety.

Semenick was shot down as he attempted to flee from a car in Stanley Park, not far from the city centre.

Police said of six shots fired, only one hit him. The gunman fled when a park policeman who had heard the shots arrived on the scene.

The suspect was spotted soon after by a watchman at the yacht club.

Vancouver Stocks
Prices were firm during a quiet afternoon on Vancouver stock exchange.

The decision by a sweeping 21 to 9 vote of the assembly's foreign affairs commission, was a blow to Premier Mendes-France's drive for speedy ratification of the Paris agreements which would restore German sovereignty and rearm 500,000 Germans in a new western European union.

But the assembly called upon Jules Moch, a bitter enemy of German rearmament, to prepare for it a detailed report on the new German rearmament scheme.

The Soviet manoeuvre was coldly received. Both assembly speaker Andre Le Troquer and Senate President Gaston Monnerville informed the Soviet ambassador an immediate visit to Russia would be "most inopportune."

25 BLOWS
Mahon, a 63-year-old widower who has a record of 100 murder convictions in 22 years as a prosecutor, leaned back, half sitting, as he spoke softly to the jury.

"Her head had been brutally beaten," he said in describing what police found in Marilyn's upstairs bedroom of the Sheppard Bay Village home.

Sheppard, his chin jutting, flicked his eyes at the jury. Then he closed them and paled.

"The evidence will show there were about 25 blows on the
